Sewage Plant Operator On The Job 35 Years

Charles Eitel, 63, 517 N. Pickaway St., has completed 35 years with the Circleville Department of Public Utilities as a sewage plant operator. Eitel has completed more years with the city than any other member of utilities department. Born in Wayne Twp., he has lived at 517 N. Pickaway St. since 1920.

He has not only been a sewage plant operator for the past 35 years, he helped build the present facility.

"I was the first man on the job the day construction began," Eitel claims. But he does not expect to be around when the city's new $6 million plant is completed, two or more years from now.

Admitting that he does not know what he will do with his time upon his retirement, Eitel says that in addition to his job with the city he worked the better part of 25 years simultaneously for Sturm and Dillard Co.

"I don't have any hobbies but I like to play a little gin," he said. In 35 years with the city Eitel has never missed a full paycheck.

Economic Indicator Shows Turnaround

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's economic decline resulting from the Arab oil embargo may be about over, government figures show.

Industrial output rose in April by four-tenths of 1 per cent, the first increase after four months of decline, the Federal Reserve Board reported Wednesday.

Output fell by three-tenths of 1 per cent in March.

The board attributed the April turnaround largely to a 14 per cent increase in auto assemblies. The rate of auto assemblies rose to 7.5 million units a year, compared with 6.6 million in March.

Government economists interpreted the increase as an indication that the worst effects of the oil embargo on the economy may be over, although they cautioned against over-optimism.

"It is one indicator, an important indicator to be sure, and it is only one month in that indicator. But it is consistent with our general over-all outlook," said a spokesman for the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

He also said it supported Nixon administration predictions that there will be no recession in 1974.

"We said we felt we would not have a recession We continue to feel that way," he added.

The administration has predicted that the big 5.8 per cent decline in the economy in the first three months of 1974 will level off in the second quarter, followed by a resumption of economic

"Nobody bothers you much at the treatment plant," he reports. "In fact there are times on the night tricks when the only time you see the boss is when you pick up your pay."

The sewage plant workers are all house and groundskeepers in addition to serving as operators. The building and grounds are immaculate and well groomed.

Eitel was appointed May 15, 1939 by Mayor William Cady. L. E. Miller was service director and Karl Herrmann safety director. Ervin Leist was chemist-superintendent when the plant was first placed in operation. In addition to Eitel, operators were Roy Helwagen and Arthur Stein. A few weeks after the plant was first placed in operation Roy Hawks was added to the staff.

Of the original crew, only Leist and Eitel are still living. Leist retired as Circleville's director of public utilities five years ago and now lives in Florida.

growth after midyear. A recession commonly is defined as two consecutive quarters of economic decline.

The industrial production index still stood at 124.7 per cent, considerably below the high of 127.5 per cent last November just before the impact of the oil embargo.

A Commerce Department analyst also said the industrial production index does not reflect activity in the housing industry, which has been severely depressed by high interest rates. He also noted that the April increase in production was due almost entirely to the partial recovery in the auto industry, but said there is no assurance yet of a complete recovery.

Besides the increase in auto production, the Federal Reserve Board said production of business equipment increased in April and that output of iron and steel mill products also registered gains.

Assistant Police Chief Found Guilty

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Eugene Moore, retired Cincinnati homicide squad commander, was convicted Wednesday by a municipal court jury of driving while intoxicated and assaulting a county policeman.

Moore, who has been Assistant Springfield Township Police Chief, said he would resign that job today. Moore, 53, was arrested Feb. 17.

Tapes More Damaging Than Transcripts

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's nothing like a tape, House Judiciary Committee members were saying after their first chance to compare a recording of a presidential conversation with the edited White House transcript.

The committee's impeachment staff played two White House tapes for members during a four-hour closed session Wednesday. Another full day of hearing Watergate evidence in closed session was scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. EDT today.

One of the tapes played Wednesday was that of a Sept. 15, 1972, conversation President Nixon had with former White House aide H. R. Haldeman and John W. Dean III, then White House counsel. A transcript of that conversation was included in the volume released last week by the White House.

Asked to compare the tape with the White House transcript, Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., said, "I believe there are differences. But the differences are such that I am not clear in my own mind that failure to include the material was deliberate." Rep. Edward Mezvinsky, D-Iowa, said the tape gave "a much clearer picture—much more focused on the problem."

The strongest reactions came from Reps. Robert Drinan, D-Mass., and Jerome R. Waldie, D-Calif., both counted among the strongest advocates of impeachment on the committee.

Drinan described the tape as "much more damaging than the White House transcripts When you hear how they have been planning and plotting your worst suspicions are aroused."

Waldie said, "Those concerned with shabbiness on the part of the President from the edited transcripts would have their concern enhanced considerably."

Committee members also heard relevant portions of the tape of a June 30, 1972, meeting involving the President, Haldeman and former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell. The next day, Mitchell resigned as head of the President's re-election committee.

None of the committee members interviewed after the session said they heard any ethnic or religious epithets on the tapes. Published reports, vehemently denied by the White House, had said the recordings included such epithets.

Members also said the quality of the Sept. 15, tape was excellent, but that the June 30 tape was less clear.

Earlier in the day, the committee voted overwhelmingly to subpoena tapes of 11 Watergate conversations President Nixon had refused to supply voluntarily and also a number of daily diaries, the record of presidential appointments.

Plans to consider a subpoena of 62 conversations about the ITT antitrust case and political contributions from the dairy industry were changed when Rodino decided to ask White House lawyer James D. St. Clair to make certain the material would not be turned over voluntarily.

'Cactus Flower' Is Best

By SUE BOYER
Herald Staff Writer

"Cactus Flower", the current production of the Roundtown Players, is the best they've done for a long time. The play ran so smoothly that had a talent scout been in the audience at last night's dress rehearsal, at least three of the cast would have been zapped off to Hollywood.

Those who have seen "Cactus Flower" done by other casts are in for a treat when they see the Roundtowners do it and those who have never seen the play on stage will be delighted. Not only is the play one of beautiful plot, the actors are so marvelously cast to the parts they play that it is an experience from start to finish.

The action involves a bachelor dentist played by Chuck Nichols who tells his girlfriend, Lucy Hosterman, that he is married to keep things uncomplicated. But complications are the only thing that result from the situation because the young lady tries to kill herself and is haphazardly saved by the writer who lives next door (Steve Stevenson).

Diane Berger plays the dentist's nurse who has to portray the nonexistent wife when the little white lie gets out of control. Never was there a play part that called for more dexterity and never was there an actress who did it so well as Mrs. Berger. Brilliantly, she plays the prim spinster nurse. Sublimely, she plays the cheated "wife". Whimsically, she plays the excited woman who finds a life she didn't know existed.

The lady can muster up tears when the part calls for them, she can be lofty, arrogant, tender, angry, pensive and even drunk but mostly, Diane Berger is marvelous.

Dave Gillespie, playing one of the dentist's patients Harvey Greenfield, comes on stage with a burst of unexpected talent. Another who displays remarkable talent is Ed Herel as Senor Sanchez. The part calls for an accent which is so natural to Herel, an onlooker would never know he was not the foreign dignitary he plays.

Lucy Hosterman as Toni Simmons the young girlfriend, is lightheartedly wonderful in her performance. Bouncy, exuberant, Lucy is a total delight throughout the entire play.

One forgets the Roundtown Players are just amateurs when Chuck Nichols comes on the stage. And if you don't read the resume of the actors, you'll never know this is his debut on the stage. As Dr. Julian Winston, Nichols is as professional as any TV comedy star going.

Steve Stevenson plays Igor Sullivan, the young writer in the play. Playing a major role throughout the play, Stevenson is an integral part in the success of the play.

Other cameo appearances are made by Jim Lekrone, Dawn Morrison and Jody Wells.

In viewing a play of this caliber, one must realize the cooperation from the crews as well as the cast is major in its production. Utilizing three basic settings, the staging of "Cactus Flower" has been a feat of superiority.

Chairman of the set construction was Ed Herel, also a cast member. Heading the scene design was B. J. Sowers and Janice Perdon was chairman of the props. Without these people and many more who worked on 15 different committees, the play would never have been the accomplishment it is.

Directed by Marsha M. Davis, "Cactus Flower" is truly a play to see. Performances will be nightly at 8:30 Friday through Sunday.

Kleindienst Enters Plea Of Guilty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst pleaded guilty today to a misdemeanor charge that he refused to answer questions about the ITT case when he appeared before the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The charge, brought by Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski, carries a possible fine of $100 to $1,000 and a possible jail term of one to 12 months.

Jaworski charged that Kleindienst "did refuse and fail to answer accurately" questions on the ITT case during 1972 confirmation hearings on his nomination as attorney general. The hearings ran from March 2 to April 27, 1972.

Jaworski in a letter, written May 10, said also:

"Our investigation has failed to disclose any criminal conduct by Mr. Kleindienst in the manner in which he handled the ITT antitrust cases.

"In one of the cases he successfully opposed a direct presidential order to abandon an appeal and leave the government without any relief."

The plea was the result of "understandings" between Kleindienst and the special prosecutor's office.

A letter accompanying the information to the judge said the plea "will dispose of all charges of which this office is presently aware arising out of his testimony at his confirmation hearings."

Israeli Jets Hammer 7 Arab Camps

MAALOT, Israel (AP) — Israeli jets bombed, rocketed and strafed seven refugee camps and guerrilla bases in southern Lebanon today, less than 24 hours after the Maalot schoolhouse massacre, the Lebanese Defense Ministry said.

There were no immediate reports of casualties.

The latest Middle East violence raised fears that Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's efforts to achieve a disengagement of Syrian and Israeli forces on the Golan Heights front would be set back considerably.

The Lebanese said a total of 36 Israeli jets took part in the raids and "were forced to flee by our anti-aircraft fire." The Israeli command reported that its jets hit guerrilla positions near Sidon and Beirut, but that it was "purely a military operation" and refugee camps were not deliberately hit.

Northern Israel was on the alert after security forces discovered another band of Arab guerrillas slipped across the Lebanese border during the night, Radio Israel said. All schools were closed to prevent any repetition of the massacre at Maalot on Wednesday, in which 20 Israeli schoolchildren were killed.

Expanded Disaster Aid Plan Sent For Nixon's Signature

WASHINGTON (AP)—Victims of recent tornadoes that devastated the South and Midwest soon may have access to expanded disaster assistance under compromise legislation passed by the House and sent to the President Wednesday.

President Nixon is expected to sign the bill without delay.

The measure was originally passed by the Senate last month, but several Housepassed amendments left final drafting of the measure to a conference committee.

It was given emergency status because of the extent of damage caused by the April twisters. But the assistance was made retroactive to April 20, 1973, and will also cover future disaster victims.

U.S. Rep. Clarence Brown, R-Ohio, said he would push for full Congressional funding of the disaster relief programs so devastated Greene County areas within his district, including Xenia, Central State University and Wilberforce University, can get on with the full rebuilding job.

Brown said he is especially anxious for complete funding of the $250 million authorized in the economic recovery portion of the bill.

He said the funds will provide much greater federal assistance than is now available for planning and redevelopment of economic activities in disasterstruck areas.

The program is a must, Brown said, for helping communities such as Xenia keep business and industry as an employment and tax income producer to help pay local recovery costs.

The legislation also provides an additional $5,000 in aid for victims after present benefits are exhausted.

The federal government will provide 75 per cent of the grant money, and the states 25 per cent. This provision replaces a loan program under which the government could write off up to $2,500.

Retroactive portions of the bill make the aid available to victims of last year's flooding, which occurred after the loan program was phased out because of abuses.

The government may loan a disaster-stricken community up to 25 per cent of its operating budget for one year, under another new program.

Displaced families may live in rent-free temporary housing and the bill also authorizes grants for mortgage or rent payments for victims facing evictions from disaster-related causes. Grants for short-term repairs to make dwellings habitable will also be available.

Schmidt Takes Over German Reins

BONN, Germany (AP) — The Bundestag elected Helmut Schmidt chancellor of West Germany today, filling the vacancy left by the resignation of Willy Brandt 10 days ago because one of his close aides was an East German spy.

The vote was 267-225. Schmidt needed 249, a majority of the total 496 members of the lower house.

The election of Schmidt, 55, had been assured in advance by the continuation of his Social Democratic party's alliance with the Free Democrats, giving them a majority of 46 seats in the Bundestag.

The coalition held firm on Wednesday and elected the leader of the Free Democrats, Walter Scheel, to succeed Gustav Heinemann as West Germany's fourth president.

The Social Democrats have 230 seats in the Bundestag, and the Free Democrats 41, but four of their deputies were absent today because of illness. All 225 Christian Democrats were present to vote against Schmidt.

Schmidt's biggest worries, inherited from Brandt, are inflation and control of radical elements within his socialist party.

"Tightening the over-all economic policy will stand at the center of the government declaration," Schmidt said this week.

A native of Hamburg who was Brandt's finance minister, Schmidt is reported to have named five new men to the cabinet.

Scheel's successor as leader of the Free Democrats, HansDietrich Genscher, 47, succeeds him as foreign minister and vice chancellor. He was Brandt's interior minister and has had little experience in foreign affairs. But he is a master political tactician with a "law and order" image from being the nation's top policeman.

Schmidt and Genscher are certain to support strong ties with the United States. They also will continue to use the economic might of West Europe's largest nation toward a revitalization of the Common Market.

They also insist that they will maintain Ostpolitik, Brandt's Nobel prize-winning policy of detente with the Soviet bloc.

Weather

Variable cloudiness with chances of showers and thunderstorms, high near 80. Showers and thundershowers likely tonight, low, upper 50s. Partly cloudy with chances of thundershowers Friday, high, low 80s. Probability of precipitation, 40 per cent today, 60 per cent tonight and 30 per cent tomorrow. Temperatures Wednesday were: high, 75; low, 52.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market posted a mild technical advance today in continued light trading. The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 2.74 at 848.80, and gainers had about a 4 to 3 lead over losers on the New York Stock Exchange. Brokers said some scattered buying was prompted by the market's resistance to any sharp decline Wednesday despite a new flare-up of terrorism in the Middle East. Pennzoil was the NYSE's most-active issue, losing 1/8 to 20 1/2 in trading that included a 100,500-share block at 20 1/2. On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index rose .06 to 84.59. Electric utility issues rebounded from their steep losses of recent sessions, spurred by the New York State Legislature's approval of an $800-million plan to aid troubled Consolidated Edison of New York. Con Ed shares were up 1 1/4 at 8 1/4 after a delayed opening. The Amex volume leader was Robintech, down 1/8 at 43 1/2. The NYSE's noon composite index of all its listed common stocks showed a .18 gain at 47.91.

Portugal Plans To Continue Wars In Africa

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Portugal will continue its "defensive" wars in Africa, the nation's new government announced today in outlining its aims. At the same time, a wave of labor disputes broke out across the country. The center-left government of Gen. Antonio de Spínola, the new president, and his cabinet also said it would maintain traditional close ties with the United States and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. "Frank and free debate" on the future of Mozambique, Angola and Portuguese Guinea, Portugal's three African colonies, is also called for within a framework of self-determination as a long-range goal. The provisional government said it would respect all existing treaties, notably the one binding Portugal to NATO, and all foreign and financial agreements. The program calls for establishing diplomatic and commercial relations with all countries. This appeared to mean a diplomatic offensive toward the Communist world with which Portugal did not maintain relations under the right-wing governments of Antonio de Oliveira Salazar and Marcello Caetano.

Emergency Vehicle Service Meeting Held

Circleville took the initial step toward gaining a volunteer emergency ambulance service at a meeting held on the lawn at the rear of Berger Hospital. Unofficial chairman of the meeting was Dr. William Myers. Speakers he introduced were Donald Thrasher, chief of the Scioto Twp. Fire Department; Rolland Featheringham, chief of the Harrison Fire Department; Albert Tyckes, a staff member of Mid Ohio Health Planning Assn.; Willis Troy of the Ohio Department of Education; Martin Eleckes, Ohio Department of Health. Dr. Myers said the intention of the meeting is to organize a volunteer emergency ambulance service for Williamsport, Amanda, Pickaway Twp. and Circleville. He stated that a training program will be conducted in Circleville as soon as possible. "Trained, interested personnel are a very important part of a volunteer service," the doctor stated. Thrasher told those at the meeting they were going to "have a rough row to hoe." Scioto Twp. volunteers finance about 75 per cent of the operation of the department through their own efforts, holding spaghetti suppers or other fund raising activities. About 25 per cent of the funding is through local taxes. Featheringham noted that in the 11 months the Harrison Twp. emergency service has been in operation it has made 240 runs. Staffed by 22 volunteers, it is funded through a local levy and serves Ashville, Harrison, Madison and Walnut Twps. Both Featheringham and Thrasher emphasized that volunteers should be screened to eliminate those not likely to stay with the program. Dyckes explained the role Mid Ohio Health Planning Assn. will play in helping secure training and equipment for the local service. Troy outlined the training requirements and procedures and Eleckes the possibility of receiving funding for vehicle and equipment. Dr. Myers said the next meeting of the volunteer service will be "the first raining session." Troy said it will be fall before a training schedule can be established.

In addition to the representatives from the state level, Paul Dean, Pickaway County Director of Disaster Services; Circleville Police Sgt. Wesley Barton and Fire Lieutenant Glenn Jones and representatives of the three local funeral homes were present.

Senate Approves Abortion Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civil rights forces have triumphed again in the Senate, defeating 47 to 46 amendments seeking to end busing for school desegregation purposes. They managed Wednesday to turn back one of the strongest antibusing challenges yet—an amendment by Sen. Edward J. Gurney, R-Fla., strongly backed by the Nixon administration. The proposal would have put such tight limits on court busing orders as virtually to eliminate them. The Senate thus preserved its record of rejecting all such antibusing riders in the 20 years since the Supreme Court's school desegregation decision.

Nixon Tells Reporter He Won't Quit

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon says he has given long thought to the possibility of resignation but has decided he will not quit the nation's highest office "under any circumstances." His strongest vow to date not to resign came in an interview with conservative columnist James J. Kilpatrick, published in today's Washington Star-News. Nixon told Kilpatrick he would not surrender his office even temporarily to Vice President Gerald R. Ford under the 25th Amendment. If the House of Representatives votes impeachment, Nixon said he would accept the verdict "with good grace" and then defend himself to the very end before the Senate. Nixon's release of edited transcripts of private Watergate conversations two weeks ago led to demands — including some from leaders of his own party — that he consider resigning. The House Judiciary Committee began hearing evidence on Nixon's possible impeachment last Thursday. The committee eventually will submit its recommendations to the full House, which then would decide by majority vote whether Nixon should be impeached. If the House votes for impeachment, the Senate would then conduct a trial on the House charges, with a two-thirds vote needed for conviction and removal from office. Kilpatrick said that he spent one hour, 20 minutes with the President in his Oval Office Tuesday in a session he described as "more of a monologue than an interview."

Reserve Mining Hearing Held

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Attorneys for the Reserve Mining Co., say the firm's plant at Silver Bay, Minn., must remain open if an alternate method of handling the discharge is to be found. In a two-hour hearing at the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals here Wednesday, Reserve Mining attorney Edward Fride said the sebastion-like waste from the plant's iron production process was "essential" material for building an inland dam. And the dam is needed to keep more of the same waste from being dumped into Lake Superior, he said. Following the hearing, a three-judge panel took under advisement the question of whether to allow the mining company to keep the Silver Bay operation open.

Emergency Vehicle Service Meeting Held

Circleville took the initial step toward gaining a volunteer emergency ambulance service at a meeting held on the lawn at the rear of Berger Hospital.

Unofficial chairman of the meeting was Dr. William Myers. Speakers he introduced were Donald Thrasher, chief of the Scioto Twp. Fire Department; Roland Featheringham, chief of the Harrison Fire Department; Albert Tyckes, a staff member of Mid Ohio Health Planning Assn.; Willis Troy of the Ohio Department of Education; Martin Eleckes, Ohio Department of Health.

Dr. Myers said the intention of the meeting is to organize a volunteer emergency ambulance service for Williamsport, Amanda, Pickaway Twp. and Circleville.

He stated that a training program will be conducted in Circleville as soon as possible. "Trained, interested personnel are a very important part of a volunteer service," the doctor stated.

Thrasher told those at the meeting they were going to "have a rough row to hoe." Scioto Twp. volunteers finance about 75 per cent of the operation of the department through their own efforts, holding spaghetti suppers or other fund raising activities. About 25 per cent of the funding is through local taxes.

Featheringham noted that in the 11 months the Harrison Twp. emergency service has been in operation it has made 240 runs. Staffed by 22 volunteers, it is funded through a local levy and serves Ashville, Harrison, Madison and Walnut Twps. Both Featheringham and Thrasher emphasized that volunteers should be screened to eliminate those not likely to stay with the program. Dyckes explained the role Mid Ohio Health Planning Assn. will play in helping secure training and equipment for the local service.

Troy outlined the training requirements and procedures and Eleckes the possibility of receiving funding for vehicle and equipment.

Dr. Myers said the next meeting of the volunteer service will be "the first raining session." Troy said it will be fall before a training schedule can be established.

In addition to the representatives from the state level, Paul Dean, Pickaway County Director of Disaster Services; Circleville Police Sgt. Wesley Barton and Fire Lieutenant Glenn Jones and representatives of the three local funeral homes were present.

Senate Approves Abortion Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civil rights forces have triumphed again in the Senate, defeating 47 to 46 amendments seeking to end busing for school desegregation purposes.

They managed Wednesday to turn back one of the strongest antibusing challenges yet—an amendment by Sen. Edward J. Gurney, R-Fla., strongly backed by the Nixon administration.

The proposal would have put such tight limits on court busing orders as virtually to eliminate them.

The Senate thus preserved its record of rejecting all such antibusing riders in the 20 years since the Supreme Court's school desegregation decision.

Nixon Tells Reporter He Won't Quit

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon says he has given long thought to the possibility of resignation but has decided he will not quit the nation's highest office "under any circumstances."

His strongest vow to date not to resign came in an interview with conservative columnist James J. Kilpatrick, published in today's Washington Star-News.

Nixon told Kilpatrick he would not surrender his office even temporarily to Vice President Gerald R. Ford under the 25th Amendment.

If the House of Representatives votes impeachment, Nixon said he would accept the verdict "with good grace" and then defend himself to the very end before the Senate.

Nixon's release of edited transcripts of private Watergate conversations two weeks ago led to demands — including some from leaders of his own party — that he consider resigning.

The House Judiciary Committee began hearing evidence on Nixon's possible impeachment last Thursday. The committee eventually will submit its recommendations to the full House, which then would decide by majority vote whether Nixon should be impeached.

If the House votes for impeachment, the Senate would then conduct a trial on the House charges, with a two-thirds vote needed for conviction and removal from office.

Kilpatrick said that he spent one hour, 20 minutes with the President in his Oval Office Tuesday in a session he described as "more of a monologue than an interview."

Reserve Mining Hearing Held

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Attorneys for the Reserve Mining Co., say the firm's plant at Silver Bay, Minn., must remain open if an alternate method of handling the discharge is to be found.

In a two-hour hearing at the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals here Wednesday, Reserve Mining attorney Edward Fride said the sebastion-like waste from the plant's iron production process was "essential" material for building an inland dam.

And the dam is needed to keep more of the same waste from being dumped into Lake Superior, he said.

Following the hearing, a three-judge panel took under advisement the question of whether to allow the mining company to keep the Silver Bay operation open.

Conference Set On Eating Habits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration farm officials plan to call in industry and agribusiness consumer representatives late this month for a two-day briefing on Agriculture Department programs and policies affecting American eating habits.

Between 300 and 400 consumer "professionals" who work for industries allied with the farm-to-market food trade have been invited, a spokesman said. The conference, scheduled for May 29-30 at the department, had not been publicly announced.

Nancy Steorts, USDA consumer adviser, is arranging the conference but was out of town and not available for comment, an aide said Wednesday. Invitations have been accepted from more than 100 consumer specialists, the aide said.

The two-day meeting represents another step in a campaign undertaken many months ago by USDA to present its side of the food question. A similar meeting was held last January here for media food editors.

Mrs. Steorts' office said Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz and other top department officials will speak at the May 20-30 meeting. Discussions also will include programs carried on by USDA in family and child nutrition, inspection services and other regulatory functions regarding food and farm products.

Butz, who always has insisted Americans enjoy food bargains, has continued to spread that message this week in speeches.

"We will always be a nation of good eaters," Butz told a Colorado audience on Wednesday. "Per capita food consumption will increase again in 1974 — and our good eating trend will most certainly continue."

The conferences and other moves by Butz people to explain what the department is doing in the area of food programs and federal regulation illustrate the deep concern the administration has about food prices and inflation in general.

Butz has repeatedly said consumers have seen the worst of this year's food price increase and that record grain crops, predicted for 1974 harvests, will go far in helping step up food production later on.

The call by Butz for all-out crop production this year, however, means lower prices for farmers if output exceeds demand by any significant margin. Consequently, some farm spokesmen are worried that dark days are ahead for producers.

In a recent resolution, the National Farmers Union called on Congress to boost federal price supports so that farmers can be sure of higher returns for wheat, corn and other commodities.

"Grain prices are plummeting," the NFU said. "Wheat prices are down to half the levels of just a few months ago, and other grains are following close behind. Livestock, cotton and milk prices have been similarly depressed and distorted, and now are on the skids without commensurate price reduction to consumers."

The consumer conference later this month is expected to focus also on outlook for farm prices and how those will affect retail food costs later on.

Columbus Employees Face Investigation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbus city employees who take off from work because of illness in the future had better be sure they really are sick.

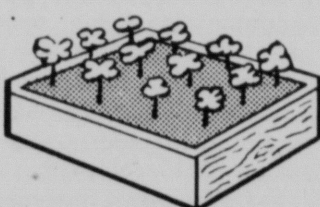

The city administration announced Wednesday plans to hire four investigators to keep a closer eye on employees who stay off the job because of illness or injury.

Ronald Rotaru, city labor relations chief, said each of the probers will be paid $11,000 a year.

A Page Of Opinion

Advising The Grads

It has been said that "there is nothing quite so useless as a commencement address." It is unlikely that many will be delivered this year that will change this judgment.

This is the time of year when thousands of high school and college young people are preparing, as the orators say, to go forth to take part in building a better tomorrow. As a matter of cold fact, they are doing nothing of the sort.

First of all, they will not be building anything for quite a while. They will be struggling to make enough money to keep up with rising costs; trying to adjust to new jobs that may not fit them and trying to find the ones that do; trying to adjust to married life.

It may be years before they get any chance at all to start to achieve the things they dream about as graduates. Most engineers, lawyers, businessmen will spend years as minor cogs before they start to achieve their life's goals.

The graduate of today will be about 30 to 35 before he gets a glimpse of the "mountains" — the accomplishments he can call his own, which make all of life worthwhile.

The graduate of today ought to be advised what to do with the 10 to 15 years between now and then. How to make the next 20 years useful in building experience, attitudes and knowledge of living, so that when the opportunity comes he will be prepared.

NEW YORK — Officer Jim Kelly, New York Police Department, 26 years on the force, 25 on a horse, spotted Gene Tunney the other day in front of the New York Athletic club, dismounted, and gave the undefeated champion a warm greeting. Officer Kelly's 17-year-old charger, Madison, also nodded to Gene.

The pleasantries finished, Gene, who will be 77 May 25, went into the club for a long swim and a short brandy.

"Isn't it great we have Gene and Jack Dempsey still around New York?" Kelly said gratefully. "How's Jack doing with his real estate problem? It's no wonder he's having trouble keeping his restaurant in that building. It's owned by the Royal Family of England, you know," Kelly said, dropping his voice. Madison chuffed.

A tourist, passing by, dropped everything he was carrying, whipped out his camera and asked Kelly if he could take a picture of him and Madison. Kelly said sure, and Madison never looked more noble.

"Thanks," the tourist said. "I want to take this picture back home to my little boy. He sees horses now and then on television."

It's a wonderful town, New York. Even has live horses, including Madison.

"Madison's my eighth over the past 25 years," the steed's fine-looking blue-helmeted rider said in the sincerest voice I've heard since the Lone Ranger last urged on the great horse Silver. "He's good for maybe three more years. None of these street noises bother him," he said, above the roaring traffic's boom. "A Kentucky colt would go mad. Lot of inbreeding in thoroughbreds."

"Madison wasn't named for either the Avenue or the President. When he was turned over to me eight-nine years ago the division named its horses for retired mounted policemen. That's how he drew Madison. But since he came on the force, we now let schoolkids name the new horses."

There are a little over 100 horses in service with New York's Finest today. Like Madison, an elder statesman, they are all bay geldings standing at least 15½ hands. Of late years, the city has been paying $421 a head — the accepted low bid price that seems to hold firm, like a cement contract.

The "killers" go for $350. "Killers," who are not killers at all, are bought by horsemeat butchers and dog food sadists.

"Not much of a spread between forty-two-one and three-fifty," an officer in Mounted headquarters said, when I phoned queasily for more details.

The majestic stance of Madison in front of the N.Y.A.C. did not suggest any such paltry prices. Shortly after the tourist took his picture, Madison (and Officer Kelly, of course) were asked another favor. Out of Central Park came a young man carrying astride his thin shoulders a very small black child with an Afro hair-do conservatively four times the size of her head. The little girl daintily carried a yellow flower she had plucked in the park.

"Can I ride him?" the little girl asked Kelly, looking at Madison.

Kelly's Irish kisser blossomed with a smile.

"No, dear," he said. "I'm sorry. There are ponies you can ride, over there in the park."

"I don't have that kind of money," the carrier of the little girl said.

"But she can pat Madison," Kelly said.

The little girl reached out a tentative hand and touched Madison's lustrous neck. Then she put her hand on his left ear, which flinched under her touch. Then ran her hand over his eyes and nose. Madison was resigned to that.

NEW YORK (AP) — The commercial health insurance industry, recipient of more than $14 billion in premium income a year, is becoming increasingly fearful that its business will be "expropriated" by the government.

At least 16 health insurers bills now are before the 93rd Congress, and some of them would result in a transfer to the federal government of at least part of the financing and administration of benefits.

One, the Kennedy-Griffiths bill, would leave little role at all for the commercial companies. "It could put us (the industry) out of business," said James Bingay, president of Mutual of New York.

The health and life insurance industries' advertising budget has been raised to $5 million from its normal $1 million a year, and educational and lobbying efforts have been increased.

Despite this, an industry representative expressed fears that the insurers might be unsuccessful in presenting their side of the health care controversy, and that legislation conceivably could be passed "before we even get in the stadium."

"It's a very political issue," said Bingay in reference to the question of public versus private control of health insurance. "A congressman can generate favorable response with headlines. The public can get worked up over the idea of something for nothing. There's so much compelling dogma."

The industry's position is that there should be a comprehensive national health insurance program but that it

"We used to think of our horses as animals that could help you control a big crowd," Kelly said of Madison. "He's done a lot of that in his time, sure. But now there's new work for him and the others. He's now a deterrent. We and some other mounteds have been moved into Harlem — around 125th street. There were a lot of muggings and worse around the area for a long time. Not only at night but in broad daylight."

"Well, none of the really tough kids have been impressed very much in recent years by bi-peds, including bipped police. But a horse like Madison, ridden by a Mounted, is a crime deterrent. Really, when I ride into a neighborhood there's a big hush a block behind us and a block ahead. Crime's down thirty-four per cent wherever Madison or any of the others walk," Kelly said with quiet pride.

Madison for Chief of Police! God knows we've had worse.

Benny Confirms Old Trunk His

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP) — Comedian Jack Benny has confirmed that a trunk found in an old house here was used by him on his first tour. Antique collector Elizabeth Craig said she displayed the trunk in her shop when Benny did a benefit for the Waukegan Symphony Orchestra last month.

"Jack confirmed it was his and he used it on his first tour at age 17," she said. "Stencilled on the side is 'Salisbury and Benny.' It's probably the only time Jack was upstaged."

Pianist Cora Salisbury was the first accompanist for Benny, now 80.

Glue Gives Boy Extra Shuteye

OKEECHOBEE, Fla. (AP) — Eleven-year-old Michael Harris got 27 hours of unexpected shuteye when he accidentally glued his left eye closed while building a model car.

It took a 150-mile car journey and the skill of a Fort Lauderdale eye surgeon to pry the fifth grader's eye open.

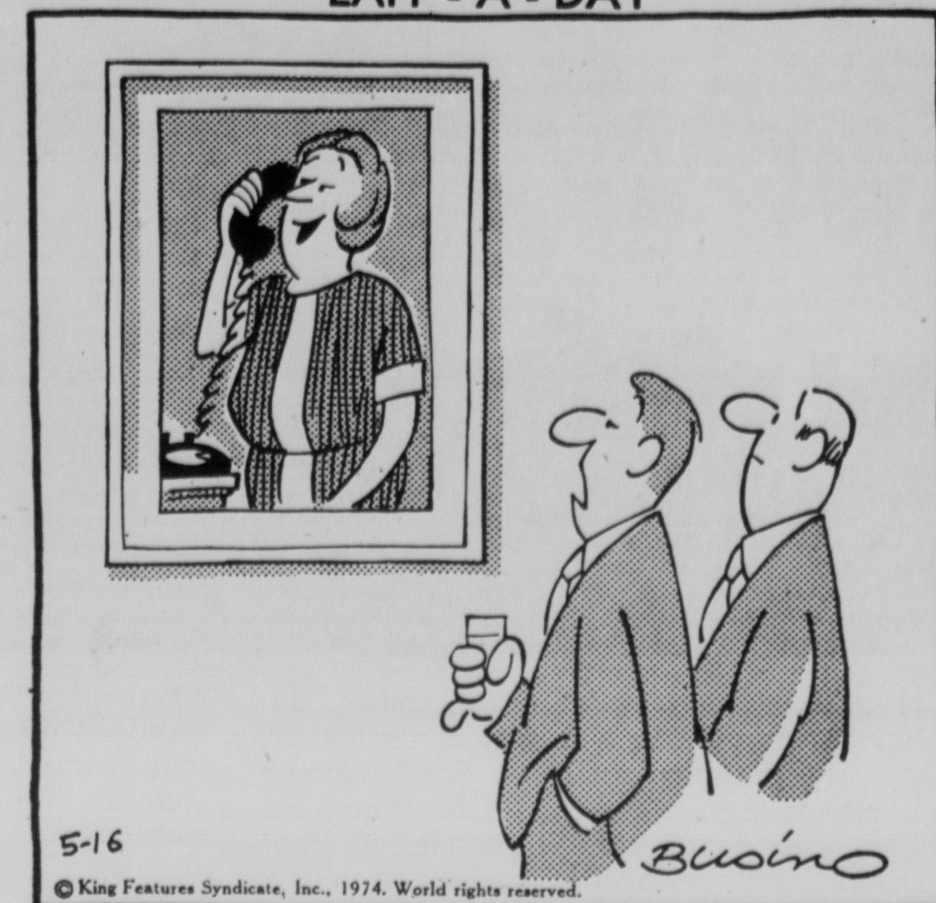

"I was scared at first, Daddy didn't believe me," Michael said Tuesday after his release from a hospital. "I sure hope it keeps me out of school for a couple of days."

Mrs. Harris said Michael was using scissors to snip off the tip of a tube of glue and "must" have been squeezing the tube at the same time because glue squirted right into his eye. Then he couldn't get it open.

No State Prosecution Of LaFatch Indicated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An investigation failed to uncover any grounds for state prosecution of Akron businessman Anthony P. LaFatch in connection with a 1973 stock scandal, Franklin County Prosecutor George C. Smith said Tuesday.

LaFatch was acquitted in federal court here in March of charges he extorted $50,000 from officials of Realty National Corp. for influencing a stock deal.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I never had any trouble with my intestines. Recently, I had some X-rays of the stomach.

It was found that my stomach was normal, but that I had diverticulitis of the intestines. I still have no discomfort and wonder if I should be having treatment.

Mrs. T. N. B., Ohio

Dear Mrs. B.: I am confused by your letter. Obviously, you must have complained of some symptoms that would prompt your doctor to suggest X-ray studies of your stomach and intestines. Ordinarily, these X-rays are not routinely ordered.

It is not uncommon that diverticula are found during X-rays in people who have no complaints related to the intestines.

Diverticula are small sacs, or pouches, that extend from the inside lining of the intestines to the outer surface. They are found most frequently in the large intestine.

Another aspect of your question needs clarification. Diverticulosis simply refers to the presence of these sacs. When one or more of them become enlarged, inflamed, or infected, the condition is known as diverticulitis.

Apparently, you have diverticulosis rather than diverticulitis. This undoubtedly is why no treatment has been suggested.

For those who have intestinal symptoms caused by these problems, treatment is directed at low-residue diets, antispasmodic drugs and antibiotics.

I know that we eat a normal, healthy, nutritious diet. My five-year-old daughter has cracks in the corners of her mouth. Can this be a vitamin deficiency?

Mrs. C. W., Ark.

Dear Mrs. W.:

The likelihood is that the problem is due to drooling of saliva rather than to a vitamin deficiency in this instance. In families where there is a well-balanced diet, this does not present the same problem as it does in improperly nourished children.

Children with large adenoids very often drool saliva and keep the cracks in the corners of their mouth from healing. Dental problems such as poor bite (occlusion) must also be considered.

I might add that adults who wear poorly fitted dentures may also suffer from this annoying condition.

Technically, this condition is known as perleche.

Sue Mine Union Over Safety Rules

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Suggesting complaints by United Mine Workers officers about job safety has been "lip service," the Consolidation Coal Co. said Tuesday it was suing the union for failing to back enforcement of safety regulations.

The company said the action, to which no dollar figure has been attached as yet, will be filed soon in U.S. District Court in Columbus, Ohio.

Haze Cochran, company vice president for public relations, said the suit will be filed against the union, and its top international officers, President Arnold Miller, Vice President Mike Trbovich, Secretary-Treasurer Harry Patrick and Safety Director John Sulka.

He said the action stems from a local dispute at the company's Franklin Mine near Cadiz, Ohio, where miners walked off their jobs after a fellow worker was suspended for smoking underground.

Since then, the strike has spread to most of Consol's other Central Division operations, Cochran said.

He said the company also will file a contempt citation against members of UAW Local 1360 at the Franklin mine.

Cochran said the company "got no cooperation from either the district or international UAW officers in halting this walkout."

"Mr. Miller and his international officers and union are constantly complaining about coal companies not being concerned about safety and how they want the law enforced," Cochran said.

Raspberry Sauce Bemuses Alioto

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "My God, they put raspberry sauce on it," murmured San Francisco Mayor Joseph L. Alioto as he began another in a seemingly endless stream of chicken dinners served on the campaign trail.

Fried chicken. Roasted chicken. Baked chicken. Chicken in mushroom sauce and even chicken in raspberry sauce. Candidates in the race for California's governorship have had them all.

But as state treasurer candidate Jess Unruh says, "The first rule of campaigning is never pass up a chance to eat or go to the bathroom."

Dividend Declared

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Epcor Shoe, Inc., directors have declared a 16-cent dividend, payable June 14 to stockholders of record May 28.

A Page Of Opinion

Advising The Grads

It has been said that "there is nothing quite so useless as a commencement address." It is unlikely that many will be delivered this year that will change this judgment.

This is the time of year when thousands of high school and college young people are preparing, as the orators say, to go forth to take part in building a better tomorrow. As a matter of cold fact, they are doing nothing of the sort.

First of all, they will not be building anything for quite a while. They will be struggling to make enough money to keep up with rising costs; trying to adjust to new jobs that may not fit them and trying to find the ones that do; trying to adjust to married life.

It may be years before they get any chance at all to start to achieve the things they dream about as graduates. Most engineers, lawyers, businessmen will spend years as minor cogs before they start to achieve their life's goals.

The graduate of today will be about 30 to 35 before he gets a glimpse of the "mountains" — the accomplishments he can call his own, which make all of life worthwhile.

The graduate of today ought to be advised what to do with the 10 to 15 years between now and then. How to make the next 20 years useful in building experience, attitudes and knowledge of living, so that when the opportunity comes he will be prepared.

NEW YORK (AP) — The commercial health insurance industry, recipient of more than $14 billion in premium income a year, is becoming increasingly fearful that its business will be "expropriated" by the government.

"It's a very political issue," said Bingay in reference to the question of public versus private control of health insurance. "A congressman can generate favorable response with headlines. The public can get worked up over the idea of something for nothing. There's so much compelling dogma."

The industry's position is that there should be a comprehensive national health insurance program but that it should be serviced by private industry, that it should be phased in gradually and that the poor should be subsidized.

"Let's do it together," said Bingay. "Let's build an American system" — as he sees it, a cooperative, private-sector effort by the various elements of the health care system and the federal government.

Opponents of insurance company participation in a national health plan have described them as fat with profits, unresponsive and inefficient. The insurers consider that assessment to be inaccurate. They maintain they are barely able to make a profit. In the 1969-1973 period they say that 20 large group health insurers averaged only one-third of a cent profit on each dollar.

Inefficient? "We're competitive," said Bingay. "If you turn the business over to government, what competition would it have? None. If its expenses rose it would go back to the taxpayer for more money."

While conceding that insurers could do little about general inflation, critics maintain that they declined even to exert pressure where they could but instead simply paid the bills and raised prices.

"Our shirts aren't completely clean, but more is being done in recent years," Bingay said. He said efforts are made to cooperate with other segments of the industry in restraining rising costs and prices.

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who helped in cleaning or clearing trees on the Canal Road. The project is far from finished but things do look much better.

A special thanks to the Circleville Band members or any students who helped. They did a great job. And to the people of Circleville and surrounding areas who could have helped and didn't, I'm sure they will be the first ones who we will see when the project is finished and the canal is stocked.

Thank You
DAVE GREEN

Lottery Cash May Be Life-Saver

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Some of the proceeds from Ohio's new state lottery may be used to save lives.

Gov. John J. Gilligan has proposed a $2.7 million appropriation from lottery profits to bolster emergency medical help in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Parma, Toledo and Springfield.

This money would help those communities establish programs similar to those proving successful in Columbus and in a seven-county area of south-east Ohio run by a private foundation.

Volkswagen In Trouble

BONN, Germany (AP) — Volkswagen, the flagship of West German industry, is in trouble at home and abroad.

Rudolf Leiding, chairman of Volkswagenwerk AG, says the company has a backlog of 472,000 unsold vehicles and lost $35 million in the first quarter of 1974. It was a sharp turnaround from 1973, when profits after taxes totaled $88 million.

Sales in the United States in the first quarter totaled 120,960 cars, a drop of 27.7 per cent from the same period in 1973. Demand was down 18 per cent in West Germany and 25 per cent in other European markets.

Spiraling costs in a highly inflationary price and labor market have hit Germany's biggest automobile company hard. The company is also troubled by changing tastes in Germany, competition on the American market from small U.S. cars, the oil squeeze and rising insurance premiums and repair costs.

To recoup its financial losses, Volkswagen had ordered price increases of about 6 per cent effective March 11 in Germany. But the federal antitrust office is threatening to roll the rises back and will examine the price increases in a public hearing May 24.

Employing 161,000 persons in Germany and 54,000 more abroad, Volkswagen is a bellwether of the German economic scene. Its troubles, which have meant some temporary layoffs, have set off alarms all through the economy.

Leiding claims new models will help the company's position. A week ago, it announced production of a new car called Golf—with a water-cooled, front-wheel-drive engine. But a spokesman stressed that the Beetle—history's best selling car—will continue to be produced in large numbers. The firm announced Feb. 17 that it had produced 15,007,032.

Ohio helped the two initial services get under way with matching grants. The two programs place emphasis on trying to get immediate help to a heart attack, accident or other victim rather than simply providing an ambulance to take the victim to a hospital.

Many heart attack victims die within five to seven minutes, said Martin Elekes, chief of the emergency medical services division of the Ohio Department of Health.

"In certain types of heart attacks, where there is cardiac arrest," he said, "properly trained personnel can immediately begin pumping, but it has to be done within a very short time."

Elekes said this means more and better-trained personnel, more vehicles and a communications system that can provide such information as the nearest available emergency room.

"When you talk about these things, the cost goes up dramatically," said Elekes. "Our funds for this so far have been very limited."

The existing programs began with matching grants from the health department. Columbus received about $75,000 to upgrade a fire department program that used to be shared by the fire and police departments.

Elekes said about $450,000 was turned over to the seven-county Southeastern Ohio Emergency Medical Services Program with headquarters in Gallipolis.

The state health official described the seven-county service as much larger and more sophisticated than the Columbus program.

Closed circuit television has been used for physician consultations between Holtzer Hospital at Gallipolis and University Hospital in Columbus, Elekes said.

Gilligan is submitting to the General Assembly a supplemental appropriations bill based on estimates that the state lottery will produce a profit of about $43.5 million its first year of operation.

Tickets go on sale in midsummer. The governor suggested $14.9 million be taken off the top for the first payment toward retirement of Ohio's Vietnam bonus bonds—a $300 million obligation the state must pay over the next 15 years out of its general revenue fund.

He then proposed an additional $12.5 million in state matching funds for vocational education, construction and expansion. That left, the governor said, $26.1 million available to spend in other areas in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Gilligan told the legislature that the state actually needed $12.3 million "to satisfactorily equip major and middle-size Ohio cities" with emergency medical care. The $2.7 million in state funds, the governor said, would generate the same amount in federal funds for a total of $5.4 million.

"Added to funds currently available, the total investment will be $6.4 million, or 52 per cent of the need," Gilligan said.

Midwest Farmers Push Corn Planting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Midwest farmers have pushed 1974 corn plantings past the halfway mark, significantly ahead of last year when foul spring weather delayed seeding, according to the latest government surveys.

By last weekend, says the Agriculture Department, about 52 per cent of the Corn Belt crop had been planted, compared with 30 per cent last year at this time and an average for the date of about 40 per cent.

The progress in corn planting, detailed Tuesday in a USDA weekly weather report, bolsters hopes among department officials that 1974 projections for a record corn harvest are justified now more than ever.

Officials have predicted farmers nationally will harvest a record corn crop next fall of nearly 6.7 billion bushels, a volume experts say will be needed to help meet expected domestic and export requirements as well as for replenishing reduced reserves.

The report said corn planting was 72 per cent completed in Iowa, compared with 18 per cent a year earlier and the average of 58 per cent. Planting in other Corn Belt states ranged from 20 per cent complete in Wisconsin to 70 per cent in Nebraska.

Planting also has made rapid strides in the South, with North Carolina 80 per cent done; Georgia 89 per cent; Kentucky 62 per cent and Texas 92 per cent, the report said.

Comments on other crops included: Wheat — Winter wheat in the central and southern plains by weekend was developing earlier than last year. In Kansas, the crop was 40 per cent headed, compared with 5 per cent a year earlier. Harvest has started in Texas.

Cotton — Planting was ahead of last year throughout most of the south, with seeding about 80 per cent completed in the Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi. Planting was about completed in California, Arizona and New Mexico, but had just started in Oklahoma. Texas producers had planted about 35 per cent of their crop.

Soybeans — Farmers made progress in planting last week, with Ohio about 20 per cent completed; Iowa 12 per cent; and Minnesota and Nebraska about 10 per cent. In the South, planting ranged from about 7 per cent completed in Mississippi to 23 per cent in Georgia.

East Harbor Park Slated For Opening

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The beach at East Harbor State Park east of Sandusky will open on schedule Memorial Day, despite heavy storm damage to some areas, the Ohio Department of Natural Resources said Wednesday.

Swimming will be limited to the northern area of the beach because a broken retaining wall and deep step-offs in places have made swimming elsewhere dangerous.

Sterilization Plan Opposed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Welfare Director Charles W. Bates emotionally reiterated his stand against the sterilization of welfare mothers at a workshop attended by some 1,700 county and state welfare workers today.

"Are they to blame, are they to become our victims? God help them all, don't let that happen," Bates told the participants in the 18th Ohio Welfare Director's Workshop at the opening session.

Some state legislators and county leaders have suggested that mothers who are on welfare be sterilized in order that they may not bear additional children.

Back Pay Due Ex-Servicemen month period.

The U. S. Navy Recruiting Command, through its local recruiting stations, has agreed to assist former GIs of any of the services, with their filing.

Officials Rename Air Base In Open House Ceremonies

CAPT. E. RICKENBACKER

Lockbourne Air Force Base will be renamed in honor of Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, in Armed Forces Day Ceremonies, 1 p.m. Saturday.

Known as Rickenbacker Air Force Base, it will honor and perpetuate the memory of Edward V. Rickenbacker of Columbus.

Called "Ace of Aces" during World War I, Rickenbacker in only five months of combat, shot down 26 enemy aircraft, making him America's leading World War I ace.

In the years that followed, Captain Eddie spoke out in favor of strategic bombing when few others would; served as a civilian advisor during World War II and helped organized the Air Transport Command, forerunner of today's Military Airlift Command; and was a proponent for establishing the U. S. Air Force as a separate service.

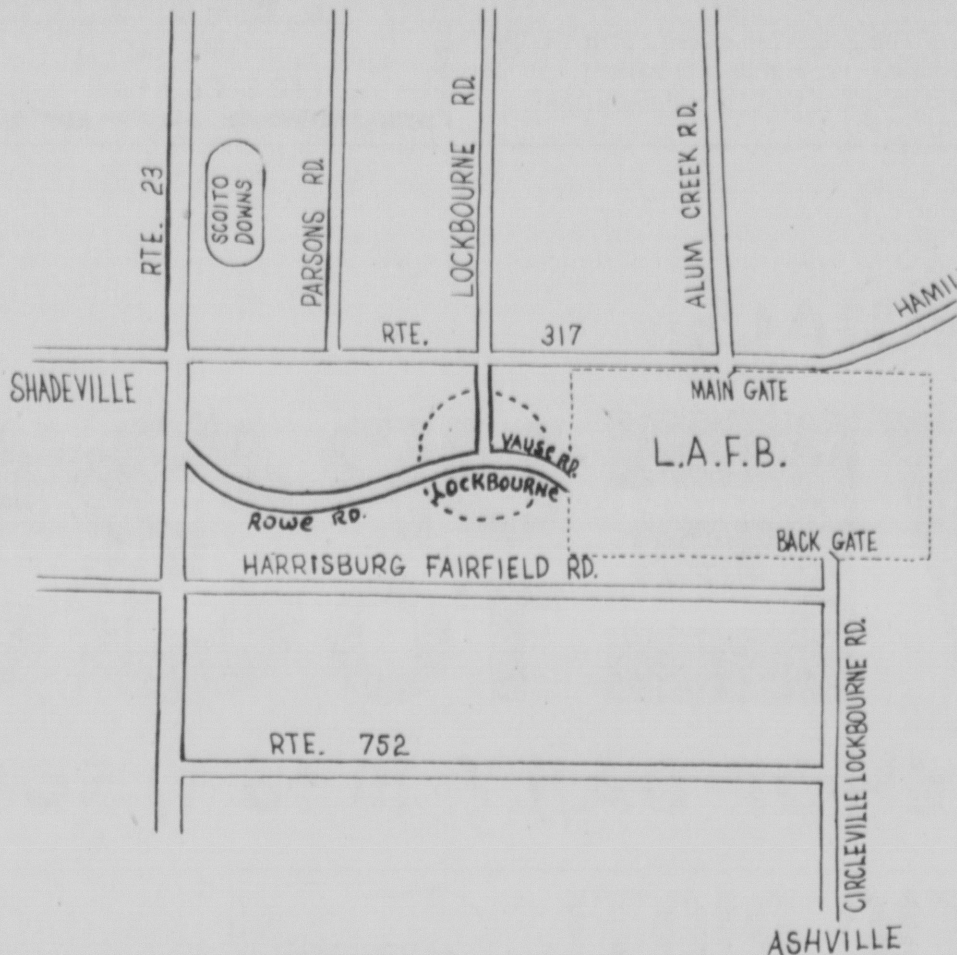

Captain Eddie also was the Medal of Honor winner, owner of Indianapolis Motor Speedway, an early pioneer of America's aviation industry, and president of Eastern Air Lines.

A cachet to commemorate the dedication of Rickenbacker Air Force Base is being offered by Sgt. Louis Hedger of the Columbus Stamp Club. Entertainer Arthur Godfrey and the United States Air Force Singing Sergeants will be among the feature attractions Saturday.

Godfrey, a colonel in the Air Force Reserve and a long time friend of the Rickenbacker family, will be the guest speaker.

The singing Sergeants will perform as part of the dedication ceremonies. General John C. Meyer, SAC Commander in Chief and World War II ace, and national and local government officials will also attend the Open House festivities.

Guest of honor for the renaming will be David Rickenbacker, Captain

AIR BASE RENAMED—A map is released showing the various entrances to Lockbourne Air Force Base, which is to be renamed Rickenbacker, in Armed Forces Day Open House Ceremonies, 2 p.m. Saturday. An estimated 100,000 persons are expected to attend the base renaming.

Rickenbacker's oldest son.

In conjunction with the base's Armed Forces Day Open House, officials estimated an approximate 100,000 persons will attend the ceremonies.

A variety of old and new aircraft and other exhibits will be on display by several major aircraft manufacturers.

A base wide open house, featuring vintage and modern aircraft, will be held in conjunction with the dedication. It will be open to the public without charge.

PRODUCTION NUMBER—CJHS students working on a car for Little "Bop" Riding Hood are: from the left; Debbie Gentzel, Susan Mullet, Sally Schlegler, Mary Ann Huffer, Lynn Weaver, and Vickie Whaley. It will be presented as part of the Spring Arts Festival Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the junior high school.

Officials Rename Air Base In Open House Ceremonies

CAPT. E. RICKENBACKER
Lockbourne Air Force Base will be renamed in honor of Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, in Armed Forces Day Ceremonies, 1 p.m. Saturday.

Known as Rickenbacker Air Force Base, it will honor and perpetuate the memory of Edward V. Rickenbacker of Columbus.

Called "Ace of Aces" during World War I, Rickenbacker in only five months of combat, shot down 26 enemy aircraft, making him America's leading World War I ace.

In the years that followed, Captain Eddie spoke out in favor of strategic bombing when few others would; served as a civilian advisor during World War II and helped organized the Air Transport Command, forerunner of today's Military Airlift Command; and was a proponent for establishing the U. S. Air Force as a separate service.

Captain Eddie also was the Medal of Honor winner, owner of Indianapolis Motor Speedway, an early pioneer of America's aviation industry, and president of Eastern Air Lines.

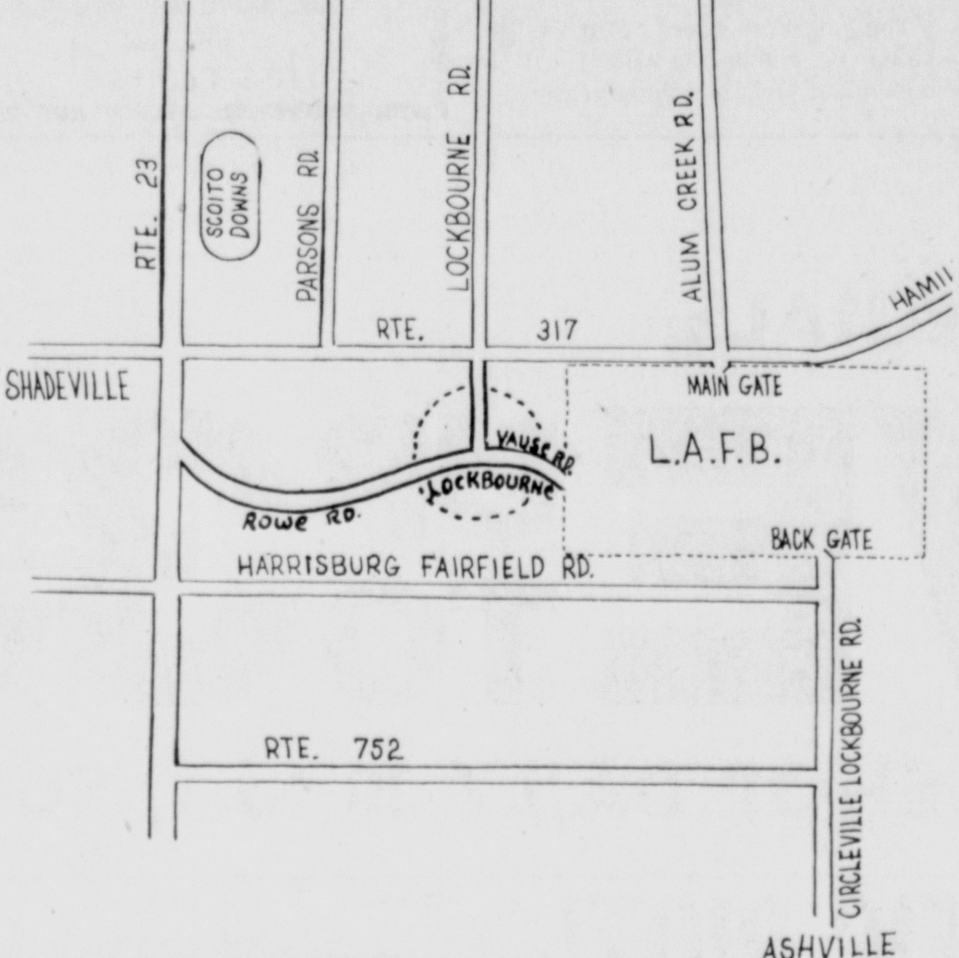

A cachet to commemorate the dedication of Rickenbacker Air Force Base is being offered by Sgt. Louis Hedger of the Columbus Stamp Club.

Entertainer Arthur Godfrey and the United States Air Force Singing Sergeants will be among the feature attractions Saturday.

Godfrey, a colonel in the Air Force Reserve and a long time friend of the Rickenbacker family, will be the guest speaker.

The singing Sergeants will perform as part of the dedication ceremonies. General John C. Meyer, SAC Commander in Chief and World War II ace, and national and local government officials will also attend the Open House festivities.

Guest of honor for the renaming will be David Rickenbacker, Captain

AIR BASE RENAMED—A map is released showing the various entrances to Lockbourne Air Force Base, which is to be renamed Rickenbacker, in Armed Forces Day Open House Ceremonies, 2 p.m. Saturday. An estimated 100,000 persons are expected to attend the base renaming.

Rickenbacker's oldest son. In conjunction with the base's Armed Forces Day Open House, officials estimated an approximate 100,000 persons will attend the ceremonies.

A variety of old and new aircraft and other exhibits will be on display by several major aircraft manufacturers.

A base wide open house, featuring vintage and modern aircraft, will be held in conjunction with the dedication. It will be open to the public without charge.

PRODUCTION NUMBER—CJHS students working on a car for Little "Bop" Riding Hood are: from the left; Debbie Gentzel, Susan Mullet, Sally Schlegler, Mary Ann Huffer, Lynn Weaver, and Vickie Whaley. It will be presented as part of the Spring Arts Festival Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the junior high school.

Sentencing Reconsidered By Ammer

A motion to set aside a sentence was granted to William Kuhn in Common Pleas Court Wednesday. Other cases during the day included one man appearing for arraignment and three for sentencing.

William Kuhn had been sentenced to 1-5 years in the Mansfield Reformatory for Men after a conviction of breaking and entering and trespassing on the lands of another to commit a felony. His motion to reconsider the sentence was granted by Judge William Ammer who denied a similar motion to Ed Adams earlier Wednesday. The court placed Kuhn on probation for three years.

Indicted by the April Grand Jury, James Chapman appeared before the court for arraignment. He entered a plea of guilty to the charge of grand theft.

Keith Day, convicted of two counts of breaking and entering and one of grand theft, was placed on probation for three years.

Appearing before the court on a bill of information, Arthur Tatman was sentenced to 1-5 years in the Ohio Penitentiary on each of two cases. Tatman was charged with breaking and entering and grand theft. The court ordered the two sentences to run concurrently.

John Johnson was found guilty of violation of probation and was extended on probation for one year. He had originally been placed on probation after a conviction of grand larceny.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Generalizing People Dangerous

DEAR ABBY: I have this theory, and I would like your opinion. If you want to know a person's true character, find out how he feels about animals.

People who like animals and make a big fuss over them have a very kind and affectionate nature and are likely to make very good mates and parents. But a person who dislikes animals (especially dogs and cats) and either ignores and mistreats them, is sure to be unkind, inconsiderate and unaffectionate and will probably make a very poor mate or parent.

What do you think?

ANIMAL LOVER

DEAR LOVER: Generalizations are dangerous. There are people who relate much better to animals than they do to people, so they naturally make a big fuss over animals but it doesn't necessarily follow that they will make better mates or parents. We've all known animal lovers who lavish an excessive amount of affection on pets, but who are cruel to people. The best index to a person's character is (a) how he treats people who can't do him any good, and (b) how he treats people who can't fight back.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 22 years and have the reputation of being a very good cook.

Whenever we have company and someone compliments me on my cooking, my husband says: "She's great in the kitchen but she's not so hot in the bedroom." It always gets a laugh. My husband thinks he is being funny. I don't.

How should I respond next time he says this?

GREAT IN THE KITCHEN

DEAR GREAT: Ask your husband if he'd be happier if you slept in the kitchen and cooked in the bedroom.

DEAR ABBY: I will have to go back a long way to fill you in on what kind of person I am and my wife as well. Fifty years ago I married a preacher's daughter. I was the town "bad boy". I was late to my own wedding as I was rolling dice in the backroom behind the barber shop and forgot the time. The wedding got a late start, and we missed our train for our honeymoon. We raised four good kids, though. The boys both got through college and are doing well, and the girls married fine men. We have ten nice grandchildren. I'm retired now, so I'm spending my time playing cards with the boys at the club. The problem is my wife is threatening to divorce me over my not getting home on time.

She has never had to work a day in her life, and we've always had a joint checking account. I never looked at another woman, and I drink like a gentleman. But she says if I am late one more time it's the end of our marriage. Is this fair?

THE LATE JOHN S. McB.
DEAR LATE: My guess is that she doesn't mean it. But on the chance that I'm wrong, shape up and keep your eye on the clock, Grandpa.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

(Q.) I won $500 in the state lottery. Are my winnings taxable? Are my losing tickets deductible?

(A.) Gambling winnings are included in taxable income. If deductions are itemized, gambling losses are deductible to the extent of your winnings. If you have gambling losses but no winnings, you cannot deduct any of these losses.

(Q.) I am contesting the results of a tax audit and plan to appeal at an IRS district conference. Do district conferees have the authority to consider the hazards of litigation in order to settle a case?

(A.) Yes. In cases involving $2,500 or less in proposed tax deficiency, IRS district conferee staff has authority to consider the hazards of litigation and settlement of the taxpayer's case on the basis. Until recently, the hazards of litigation were considered only at the Regional Appellate level — the second tier of the IRS audit-appeals system.

For more information on the appeals process, see IRS Publication 556, "Audit of Returns, Appeal Rights, and Claims for Refund." It's available free from your Internal Revenue office.

(Q.) At the time I filed my 1973 tax return, I had sold my old home but not yet purchased a new one. I noted this fact on my Federal income tax return, but did not report any capital gains. Within the one-year period required by law, I've bought a new home whose price exceeds the adjusted sale price of my old home. Am I now automatically entitled to postpone the tax on the gain from the sale or do I still have to notify the IRS?

(A.) After your return is filed, if you purchase a new home within the one-year replacement period that costs you at least as much as you received for your old home, you should advise your IRS district director in writing that you have replaced your old residence, giving the dates of purchase and occupancy of the new residence and its costs.

(Q.) Do you have a booklet that explains the IRS collection process for past due income taxes?

(A.) Yes. IRS Publication 586, "The Collection Process (Income Tax Accounts)," explains how the IRS fulfills its obligations to collect overdue taxes and what the rights and duties are of taxpayers owing bills for taxes.

The 12-page booklet can be obtained free of charge at your local IRS office.

Kay Demands Equal Publicity

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Richard B. Kay, independent candidate for the U.S. Senate, Wednesday challenged the news media to give his campaign equal coverage with those of major party candidates.

Kay, one of two civilian attorneys who defended Lt. William Calley Jr. during his court martial three years ago, was the American Party's 1970 U.S. Senate nominee from Ohio.

In Cleveland and Columbus news conferences, Kay said the size of the May 7 primary vote for non-incumbents and lesser-known candidates showed people are fed up and voted for any qualified candidate "who is not a product of the present immoral, dishonest and corrupt leadership and structure of the two major political parties."

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

(Q.) I won $500 in the state lottery. Are my winnings taxable? Are my losing tickets deductible?

(A.) Gambling winnings are included in taxable income. If deductions are itemized, gambling losses are deductible to the extent of your winnings. If you have gambling losses but no winnings, you cannot deduct any of these losses.

(Q.) I am contesting the results of a tax audit and plan to appeal at an IRS district conference. Do district conferees have the authority to consider the hazards of litigation in order to settle a case?

(A.) Yes. In cases involving $2,500 or less in proposed tax deficiency, IRS district conferees have authority to consider the hazards of litigation and settlement the taxpayer's case on the basis. Until recently, the hazards of litigation were considered only at the Regional Appellate level — the second tier of the IRS audit-appeals system.

For more information on the appeals process, see IRS Publication 556, "Audit of Returns, Appeal Rights, and Claims for Refund." It's available free from your Internal Revenue office.

(Q.) At the time I filed my 1973 tax return, I had sold my old home but not yet purchased a new one. I noted this fact on my Federal income tax return, but did not report any capital gains. Within the one-year period required by law, I've bought a new home whose price exceeds the adjusted sale price of my old home. Am I now automatically entitled to postpone the tax on the gain from the sale or do I still have to notify the IRS?

(A.) After your return is filed, if you purchase a new home within the one-year replacement period that costs you at least as much as you received for your old home, you should advise your IRS district director in writing that you have replaced your old residence, giving the dates of purchase and occupancy of the new residence and its costs.

(Q.) Do you have a booklet that explains the IRS collection process for past due income taxes?

(A.) Yes. IRS Publication 586, "The Collection Process (Income Tax Accounts)," explains how the IRS fulfills its obligations to collect overdue taxes and what the rights and duties are of taxpayers owing bills for taxes.

The 12-page booklet can be obtained free of charge at your local IRS office.

Kay Demands Equal Publicity

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Richard B. Kay, independent candidate for the U.S. Senate, Wednesday challenged the news media to give his campaign equal coverage with those of major party candidates.

Kay, one of two civilian attorneys who defended Lt. William Calley Jr. during his court martial three years ago, was the American Party's 1970 U.S. Senate nominee from Ohio.

In Cleveland and Columbus news conferences, Kay said the size of the May 7 primary vote for non-incumbents and lesser-known candidates showed people are fed up and voted for any qualified candidate "who is not a product of the present immoral, dishonest and corrupt leadership and structure of the two major political parties."

AT BOOKS IN THE CHILDREN'S LIBRARY

Have we got books for you! "Easy Reader" says all the joke books from the Electric Company television series are easy to read. The reluctant reader will think he's reading the comics as he breezes through these zany adventures. There's a spelling lesson concealed in this book somewhere, but no child will ever figure out where. The title is, naturally, "The Electric Company Joke Book." For hard hitting humor, there is "The Nitty-Gritty Rhyming Riddle Book." A first grader will have no trouble with "The Continuing Story of Love of Chair." There are only six words on a page. Paul, the super-gorilla, solves the mystery of the misplaced silent e's in "The Silent E's From Outer Space." There's no lesson in "Fargo, North Decoder and His Coat and Hat" (unless I missed it too!) The famous detective and his arch rival keep things moving until the very last page.

Truckers Rally Flops At Franklin

FRANKLIN, Ohio (AP)—Disappointed by the turnout of only about 200 persons, independent truckers Wednesday scheduled another rally here Sunday to consider joining a national shutdown.

Carl Bray, who identified himself as a spokesman for the Middletown and Southwestern Ohio truckers, blamed the poor turnout on the fact that many truckers were on the road.

Several thousand independent truckers joined the earlier shutdown over fuel prices.

On Wednesday, the truckers present voted 50-34 to support the strike. Many did not vote.

Michael Parkhurst, editor of Overdrive Magazine, told the gathering at the Dayton South 76 Truck Stop that the KansasMissouri truckers are 90 per cent shut down. Florida and Texas are 70 per cent down and approximately 75 per cent of truckers on the West Coast are out.

"The issue is, is the independent trucker going to survive—not this week or next week, but a year from now. It's a case of survival," he said.

Tom Gritton, head of the Indiana Owner-Operator Truckers, said, "We're sitting virtually on a volcano now, ready to shut down."

never sighted the enemy and returned home with one general missing. "The Fools of Chelm and their History" by Isaac Singer portrays all rulers as stupid and talkative. So what else is new?

"The Real Thief" by Steig reminds one of a folk tale where one foolish action brings trouble for all. In this tale, a little mouse steals jewels from the King and allows his best friend to take the blame. The reader is left with a lump in his throat as the real thief confesses. In the end all is forgiven and there is a tearful conclusion. A very moving story, indeed.

"The Bears' Almanac" by the incomparable Berenstains claims to be "Almost everything small bears and kids need to know about almost everything." Oh yes, there are actual facts about rain, snow, tornados and sun, but this book can be judged by its pictures alone. Its all on a first grade level and no child will want to put it down.

There are certain qualities that endear picture books to children and the Babar books have been popular for more than 25 years. The author's miniature little animals fill each page, but do not confuse the reader. His rich, humorous imagination gives us little hippopotomi in transparent suits and flippers frolicking at "Babar's Fair." Take a love of animals, a gentle, yet amusing story line and oversize colorful pages and you have a formula for success. Do try all the Babar books.

There are many new copies of old favorites in the children's room. Roald Dahl's beloved "Charlie and the Chocolate Factory" and "Charlie and the Great Glass Elevator" and "The Enormous Egg" by Oliver Butterworth should now be more frequently available. Come in and see what we have to offer.

Vaccine For Strep Throat Developed By Researchers

CHICAGO (AP) — Medical researchers have developed a spray vaccine against "strep throat" that they say can lead to a reduction in the serious diseases that children sometimes contract afterwards.

The vaccine, which can be sprayed in the throat, was developed by Dr. Eugene N. Fox, a microbiologist at La Rabida Children's Hospital and Research Center and the University of Chicago, with colleagues at the university and the University of Florida, Gainesville.

"Strep throat" is relatively mild. But the vaccine is considered important because it can lead to a reduction in rheumatic heart, kidney and other serious diseases which sometimes follow streptococcal infections in children.

Fox and his coworkers told a news conference Tuesday at the annual meeting of the American Society for Microbiology that the vaccine was effective in immunizing human volunteers against streptococcus Group A infections, the ones which sometimes lead to serious complications.

He had first reported success with the vaccine in experimental animals in 1966.

Fox said the spray vaccine also prevents colonization of the bacterium in the throat, which can lead to later infection or result in spread of the illness to others.

The vaccine is made from a portion of the cell wall of the micro-organism which causes the disease.

It was tested on 21 men and women aged 18 to 25 at the University of Florida school of medicine under the direction of Dr. Robert H. Waldman. Another 23 students were given a fake vaccine of salt solution.

The subjects were given three monthly doses, then exposed to live streptococci.

Fox said the vaccine would not be generally available until further tests are done. He also said he hopes to develop a vaccine effective against several strains of streptococcus.

Babies Come With Sweet Tooth

NEW YORK (AP) — Baby may not arrive with a silver spoon in his mouth but chances are he's equipped with his very own sweet tooth. While it may not show, it definitely is there, researchers at Monell Chemical Senses Center at the University of Pennsylvania proved recently.

They offered 2-day-old babies a variety of waters — plain, sweet, salty and even sour. The majority preferred the sugar water and drank more of it. Water is vital to us from infancy to old age. It performs two vital functions for us: it acts as a solvent to transport nutrient materials to cells and helps remove waste products.

WOODWORKER EXTRAORDINARY—John Ammer operates a heavy-duty Rockwell 24-inch planer, an unusual machine in one of Ohio's finest equipped woodworking shops.

Ammer Lumber Celebrates 25th Anniversary Today

Ammer Lumber Co., 110 Highland Avenue, is not just another two-by-four lumber yard. It's in a class by itself and it's got to be different because it caters to the customer who's looking for the best.

Ammer Lumber Co. today celebrates a quarter-century of service to Circleville, Pickaway County and the adjoining counties. John Ammer is owner and operator of the firm.

For, it was 25 years ago—May 16, 1949—that this business began and grew on its present two-and-one-half acres of land—fenced in by a six-foot chain-link enclosure and offering unlimited parking space.

Ammer Lumber Co., which sells Rockwell-Delta power tools and machinery to industry and commercial establishments as well as to the home workshop craftsman, is itself well-equipped for the woodworking service it performs for customers.

Ammer Lumber Co.'s woodworking shop is one of the best-equipped in this part of Ohio. It has powerful planers that can surface and square boards, band saws, jig saws, table and radial-arm saws, cut-off saws, drill presses of all types, jointers, motorized miter boxes, mortise and tenon machines, shapers, routers, disc sanders, belt sanders, etc.

Ammer Lumber Co. today still is proud of its slogan: "Anything from wood made to order."

This slogan's offer has been used to advantage not only by the homemaker to get special cabinets, bookcases, furniture, etc.

This offer has been accepted by Circleville's industries as well, to fill requirements for special wooden equipment.

When Ammer Lumber Co. started business in 1949, John Ammer recalled, the plastic laminated Formica had just appeared on the market. But in those days, its application required special equipment and methods that restricted its use to factory production.

Ammer was among the first to use Formica in fabricating kitchen sinktops. Today, however, the do-it-yourselfer can install Formica and all material required is available from Ammer.

Besides lumber and a complete line of building materials, Ammer Lumber Co. also sells paneling, plywood, ready-made cabinets, hardware, certain appliances, glass and tools. Free delivery is offered.

Judge Orders Women For Work In Police Cars

DETROIT (AP) — "I figure a woman can do anything a man can," says Constance Klein, a 5-foot-4, 130-pound barmaid. She and a lot of other Detroit women may soon get a chance to prove it.

Miss Klein, 26, is one of three women who filed a suit charging the Detroit police department with sex discrimination. It resulted in an order Monday by Judge Ralph M. Freeman of U.S. District Court requiring that the department hire one woman for every man hired pending trial of the suit.

Detroit's force has 5,524 members, only 123 of whom are women. Most male officers contend street assignments are too tough for women.

Deadline Extended For Disaster Loans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The U.S. Small Business Administration has extended the deadline for disaster loan applications to June 28.

Persons hit by the April 3 tornadoes in 14 eligible counties can get 5 per cent loans for up to 30 years for actual uninsured losses, says Frank D. Ray.

Eligible counties include Adams, Butler, Clark, Delaware, Fayette, Franklin, Greene, Hamilton, Madison, Paulding, Pickaway, Putnam, Summit and Warren.

Miss Klein scoffs at that. "With the proper training, a woman could handle scout car assignments as well as a man," she says.

"I've been a barmaid for eight years and I've dealt with a lot of people. You can talk people out of having fights."

Miss Klein said she was turned down for a police job last June because she had less than two years of college.

"They were hiring men but not women—and men could get by with just a high school diploma or its equivalent," she said. She said she joined a suit filed by an ex-policewoman and a rejected applicant because she saw no other alternative.

Lt. Patricia O'Neill, a department spokeswoman, said there were standards forcing women to have two years of college and work experience compared to a high school education for men. But she said those rules no longer exist.

Policemen and policewomen said they weren't happy about women handling patrol duties, but indicated they felt women could fill less hazardous jobs.

"This is a rough town," said a sergeant. "In the scout car area especially, force is sometimes necessary and I don't think most women could handle it."

HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION

WOODWORKER EXTRAORDINARY—John Ammer operates a heavy-duty Rockwell 24-inch planer, an unusual machine in one of Ohio's finest equipped woodworking shops.

Ammer Lumber Celebrates 25th Anniversary Today

Ammer Lumber Co., 110 Highland Avenue, is not just another two-by-four lumber yard. It's in a class by itself and it's got to be different because it caters to the customer who's looking for the best.

Ammer Lumber Co. today celebrates a quarter-century of service to Circleville, Pickaway County and the adjoining counties. John Ammer is owner and operator of the firm.

For, it was 25 years ago—May 16, 1949—that this business began and grew on its present two-and-one-half acres of land—fenced in by a six-foot chain-link enclosure and offering unlimited parking space.

Ammer Lumber Co., which sells Rockwell-Delta power tools and machinery to industry and commercial establishments as well as to the home workshop craftsman, is itself well-equipped for the woodworking service it performs for customers.

Ammer Lumber Co.'s woodworking shop is one of the best-equipped in this part of Ohio. It has powerful planers that can surface and square boards, band saws, jig saws, table and radial-arm saws, cut-off saws, drill presses of all types, jointers, motorized miter boxes, mortise and tenon machines, shapers, routers, disc sanders, belt sanders, etc.

Ammer Lumber Co. today still is proud of its slogan: "Anything from wood made to order."

This slogan's offer has been used to advantage not only by the homemaker to get special cabinets, bookcases, furniture, etc.

This offer has been accepted by Circleville's industries as well, to fill requirements for special wooden equipment.

When Ammer Lumber Co. started business in 1949, John Ammer recalled, the plastic laminated Formica had just appeared on the market. But in those days, its application required special equipment and methods that restricted its use to factory production.

Ammer was among the first to use Formica in fabricating kitchen sinktops. Today, however, the do-it-yourselfer can install Formica and all material required is available from Ammer.

Besides lumber and a complete line of building materials, Ammer Lumber Co. also sells paneling, plywood, ready-made cabinets, hardware, certain appliances, glass and tools. Free delivery is offered.

Princess Von Furstenberg's Fashions Make Big Impact

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — People are taking Belgian-born designer Princess Diane von Furstenberg seriously now that her line of Italian-made wrap and shirt-style dresses will do between $10 million and $12 million worth of business this year.

The 27-year-old designer started the business out of her dining room four years ago, and her creations now are available in 2,000 stores.

The princess, in town to talk about her fashions, said she is well known for her prints, and the clothes are noted for their comfort and packability.

Prints in the current line include animal and reptile patterns in brown, orange and green tones. The fabrics are light cotton knits, all washable.

She "commutes" between New York, where she lives, and the Italian factories in Como and Florence where the clothes are made. The first leg of her current tour was from Italy to Columbus.

The wife of Prince Egon von Furstenberg, menswear designer and heir to the Fiat fortune, she opened her own showroom on Manhattan's Seventh Avenue two years ago.

She said she is beginning to feel a part of things there, but only gradually.

"At first I wore jeans to work so I could help ship the clothes. So I rarely saw the buyers. I've even served them coffee when they didn't recognize me," she said.

She describes herself as very pro-woman and feminine, and says she has discovered that "women are much better looking and more intelligent than they think they are."

For fall, she will introduce a line of beauty products along with her fall prints, and evening lengths for body and wrap dresses, and pajamas.

However, the biggest beauty asset for any woman is a good attitude about herself, she said.

Lowe's Low Prices Now More Necessary Than Ever

Long before the just-lifted price control program of the federal government, Lowe's had a price control program of our own — called Lowe's Low Prices. The idea was, and is, to hold prices at the lowest possible level on brand-name merchandise. And it has worked well. Lowe's has grown but our profit after taxes has always been less than 4c per dollar of sales. Last month, to prove that not all prices are soaring, we published a 36-page Un-flation Consumer Guide (free at your Lowe's store) and show verified examples of Lowe's lower prices. Another truth, and bad news, is that inflation is real and growing in labor and materials. The good news is that our policy still is to maintain our prices as low as possible. These low prices are guaranteed for the next 10 days.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — People are taking Belgian-born designer Princess Diane von Furstenberg seriously now that her line of Italian-made wrap and shirt-style dresses will do between $10 million and $12 million worth of business this year.

The 27-year-old designer started the business out of her dining room four years ago, and her creations now are available in 2,000 stores.

The princess, in town to talk about her fashions, said she is well known for her prints, and the clothes are noted for their comfort and packability.

Prints in the current line include animal and reptile patterns in brown, orange and green tones. The fabrics are light cotton knits, all washable.

She "commutes" between New York, where she lives, and the Italian factories in Como and Florence where the clothes are made. The first leg of her current tour was from Italy to Columbus.

The wife of Prince Egon von Furstenberg, menswear designer and heir to the Fiat fortune, she opened her own showroom on Manhattan's Seventh Avenue two years ago.

She said she is beginning to feel a part of things there, but only gradually.

"At first I wore jeans to work so I could help ship the clothes. So I rarely saw the buyers. I've even served them coffee when they didn't recognize me," she said.

Lowe's Low Prices Now More Necessary Than Ever

Long before the just-lifted price control program of the federal government, Lowe's had a price control program of our own — called Lowe's Low Prices. The idea was, and is, to hold prices at the lowest possible level on brand-name merchandise. And it has worked well. Lowe's has grown but our profit after taxes has always been less than 4c per dollar of sales. Last month, to prove that not all prices are soaring, we published a 36-page Un-flation Consumer Guide (free at your Lowe's store) and show verified examples of Lowe's lower prices. Another truth, and bad news, is that inflation is real and growing in labor and materials. The good news is that our policy still is to maintain our prices as low as possible. These low prices are guaranteed for the next 10 days.

Nelson, Reds Shade Giants

CINCINNATI (AP) — His career at a crossroads, Roger Nelson gambled. The horseshoe-shaped scar on his right elbow may end up as the Cincinnati Reds good luck charm.

The curly-haired righthander is returning dividends from offseason surgery after a frustrating year of pain and nonproduction.

Nelson came within six outs Wednesday of becoming the first Cincinnati pitcher to toss a no-hitter in Riverfront Stadium, four-year-old home of the Reds.

He survived two late-inning home runs to send the Reds off on a 10-game West Coast road trip buoyed by a 4-3 triumph over the San Francisco

Giants.

Nelson, the key figure in a 1972 trade with the Kansas City Royals, found himself at low ebb last season when hit by elbow miseries for the first time in his career.

A question mark a month ago, his healed hinge could be a key factor in propelling the sagging Reds back on the road to recovery.

It was the third time in less than a month that the 29-year-old Nelson launched a no-hit bid for the more than five innings. While the other two efforts failed to produce decisions, Wednesday's work bore fruit.

"I knew I didn't have good stuff out there, but I guess I was a little lucky," said Nelson, now 2-3 for the season.

He finished with a two-hitter, with some last-out help from Pedro Borbon. Losing pitcher was Tom Bradley, 4-4. Bobby Bonds shattered Nelson's no-hit dreams in the eighth with a man on. Then Chris Speier's solo shot in the ninth sent Nelson to the showers.

Seeing his shutout vanish disappointed Nelson as much as missing the no-hitter. "That ticked me off," he said. "When you pitch a two-hitter, you shouldn't give up three runs."

Catcher Johnny Bench supported Nelson with three runs batted in on his seventh homer of the spring — to tie for club leadership — and a sacrifice fly.

"It seems like we're in a limbo," said Bench, noting the Reds continue to lose ground to front-running Los Angeles. Cincinnati finished its home stand with a 6-3 mark, but remained in fourth place.

"I've come back a long way after getting off to a sloppy start, but I've got a long way to go yet," said Bench.

Pete Rose's sacrifice fly gave the Reds a 4-0 lead after seven, but it wasn't enough to make Nelson feel comfortable.

"It's tough to work on a nohitter unless you have a 10-0 lead. You just don't want to make a mistake," said Nelson, who came to Cincinnati with Richie Scheinblum in a trade that sent

Hal McRae and Wayne Simpson to Kansas City.

Manager Sparky Anderson missed Nelson's bid. He slept through it in the lockerroom, still in a fog from ear surgery earlier in the day.

Bonds' home run wasn't the only highlight of the eighth inning. Giants' centerfielder Garry Maddox batted out of turn, ahead of teammate Mike Phillips.

Maddox fled out without the Reds raising any protest.

The Reds open their road trip at Houston Friday night while the Giants head home to face the San Diego Padres.

Randy Thomas Blanks Panthers On 3 Hits

Circleville evened its overall record at 9-9 and climbed ahead of Miami Trace in the SCOL as Randy Thomas tossed a three-hitter at the Panthers Wednesday.

Thomas, who allowed only three singles, walked four and fanned seven.

After two scoreless innings, Rock Davis pounded a homerun with a man on and Biff Bumgarner cracked a round-tripper with two men on in the third frame to give CHS a 6-0 lead.

The Tigers scored single runs in the fourth, sixth, and seventh innings.

Davis led the 11-hit attack with four hits in five trips to the plate and three RBIs. Bumgarner, who collected four RBIs, had two hits. Tigers collecting singles were Brent Mancini, Thomas, Mark Mace, Phil Roll, and Perry Hoskins.

Instead of candy, boys in the Circleville Youth baseball program will be selling window stickers this year to help finance league play.

About $6,000 is needed to operate the program, according to Bill Camp and John Bilchak of the board of directors, who have purchased 2,500 stickers for car or business windows.

All players, wearing baseball shirts, will meet at the small shelter house at Ted Lewis Park Saturday at 9 a.m. to begin the sale.

Each boy will be given at least 10 stickers.

Coaches and Youth Baseball board members will drive the boys to their designated selling areas. They will meet after the sale at the park about 1:30 p.m. to turn in the money.

Rickenbacker FFA Trot Highlights SD Opening

The nation's four fastest trotting mares have been entered in the field of six Friday night at Scioto Downs in the $7,000 Eddie Rickenbacker FFA Trot.

The World Champion Colonial Charm, owned by the Castleton Farm of Lexington, Ky., heads the list of trotters in the inaugural feature named to honor the famed Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, America's outstanding fighter ace of World War 1.

Challenging Colonial Charm, guided by Glen Garnsey to the world record mark of 1:58 2-5 last fall, are Killbuck Mary, racing out of the Dick Buxton stable for owners Robert and Henry Critchfield of Wooster; Sara Flo driven by Bob Cheney for owner George Alber of Marion; and the consistent campaigner Keystone Mite, reined by Thad McRae for Dr. and Mrs. Robert Johns of Wooster.

Colonial Charm, Sara Flo, Killbuck Mary, and Keystone Mite were all Season Champion trotters last year.

Colonial Charm equalled the world record and the season mark with her trip over the "Red Mile" at Lexington, Ky. Killbuck Mary and Sara Flo were tied for the season record at Scioto Downs with trips in 2:01 4-5, and Keystone Mite was the season champion aged trotting mare with her Scioto victory in 2:00 3-5.

Adding spice to the featured Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker Trot is the addition of the veteran trotting kings Doc

McBean with a record of 2:01 2-5, and King Storm with a mark of 2:01 4-5.

A pair of co-features highlight the opening night 10-race card. In the $3,000 Open Trot, the eighth race, Howard Beissinger has the powerful Manuel, the Speedy Scot colt from New York, going against the Castleton Farm's season champion trotting filly Berna Hanover. Ben White has the 1973 Ohio trotting filly Parlay R.C.

In the sixth, Castleton Farm entered the former season champion trotting filly Noble Florrie. Sid Spencer has the great Yum Yum Girl in, and Dick Midden has the speedy Smart Noble.

Racing fans will get two new looks at Scioto Downs when the season starts on Friday night.

New three-way wagering machines have been installed for the convenience of the fans, who can purchase win, place, or show tickets at any denomination window. The new three-way pari-mutuel machines will speed up wagering, and eliminate long lines.

Fans can view the races in color on the closed circuit television system newly installed this year. Closed circuit color TV monitors have been placed throughout the grandstand, club house and penthouse.

American League batting champion Rod Carew (.350) batted only .254 last season against the Chicago White Sox. He hit .444 in 12 games against Detroit.

Giants.

Nelson, the key figure in a 1972 trade with the Kansas City Royals, found himself at low ebb last season when hit by elbow miseries for the first time in his career.

A question mark a month ago, his healed hinge could be a key factor in propelling the sagging Reds back on the road to recovery.

It was the third time in less than a month that the 29-year-old Nelson launched a no-hit bid for the more than five innings. While the other two efforts failed to produce decisions, Wednesday's work bore fruit.

"I knew I didn't have good stuff out there, but I guess I was a little lucky," said Nelson, now 2-3 for the season.

He finished with a two-hitter, with some last-out help from Pedro Borbon. Losing pitcher was Tom Bradley, 4-4. Bobby Bonds shattered Nelson's no-hit dreams in the eighth with a man on. Then Chris Speier's solo shot in the ninth sent Nelson to the showers.

Seeing his shutout vanish disappointed Nelson as much as missing the no-hitter. "That ticked me off," he said. "When you pitch a two-hitter, you shouldn't give up three runs."

Catcher Johnny Bench supported Nelson with three runs batted in on his seventh homer of the spring — to tie for club leadership — and a sacrifice fly.

"It seems like we're in a limbo," said Bench, noting the Reds continue to lose ground to front-running Los Angeles. Cincinnati finished its home stand with a 6-3 mark, but remained in fourth place.

"I've come back a long way after getting off to a sloppy start, but I've got a long way to go yet," said Bench.

Pete Rose's sacrifice fly gave the Reds a 4-0 lead after seven, but it wasn't enough to make Nelson feel comfortable.

"It's tough to work on a nohitter unless you have a 10-0 lead. You just don't want to make a mistake," said Nelson, who came to Cincinnati with Richie Scheinblum in a trade that sent

Hal McRae and Wayne Simpson to Kansas City.

Manager Sparky Anderson missed Nelson's bid. He slept through it in the lockerroom, still in a fog from ear surgery earlier in the day.

Bonds' home run wasn't the only highlight of the eighth inning. Giants' centerfielder Garry Maddox batted out of turn, ahead of teammate Mike Phillips.

Maddox fled out without the Reds raising any protest.

The Reds open their road trip at Houston Friday night while the Giants head home to face the San Diego Padres.

All players, wearing baseball shirts, will meet at the small shelter house at Ted Lewis Park Saturday at 9 a.m. to begin the sale.

Each boy will be given at least 10 stickers.

Coaches and Youth Baseball board members will drive the boys to their designated selling areas. They will meet after the sale at the park about 1:30 p.m. to turn in the money.

Rickenbacker FFA Trot Highlights SD Opening

The nation's four fastest trotting mares have been entered in the field of six Friday night at Scioto Downs in the $7,000 Eddie Rickenbacker FFA Trot.

The World Champion Colonial Charm, owned by the Castleton Farm of Lexington, Ky., heads the list of trotters in the inaugural feature named to honor the famed Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, America's outstanding fighter ace of World War 1.

Challenging Colonial Charm, guided by Glen Garnsey to the world record mark of 1:58 2-5 last fall, are Killbuck Mary, racing out of the Dick Buxton stable for owners Robert and Henry Critchfield of Wooster; Sara Flo driven by Bob Cheney for owner George Alber of Marion; and the consistent campaigner Keystone Mite, reined by Thad McRae for Dr. and Mrs. Robert Johns of Wooster.

Colonial Charm, Sara Flo, Killbuck Mary, and Keystone Mite were all Season Champion trotters last year.

Colonial Charm equalled the world record and the season mark with her trip over the "Red Mile" at Lexington, Ky. Killbuck Mary and Sara Flo were tied for the season record at Scioto Downs with trips in 2:01 4-5, and Keystone Mite was the season champion aged trotting mare with her Scioto victory in 2:00 3-5.

Adding spice to the featured Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker Trot is the addition of the veteran trotting kings Doc

McBean with a record of 2:01 2-5, and King Storm with a mark of 2:01 4-5.

A pair of co-features highlight the opening night 10-race card. In the $3,000 Open Trot, the eighth race, Howard Beissinger has the powerful Manuel, the Speedy Scot colt from New York, going against the Castleton Farm's season champion trotting filly Berna Hanover. Ben White has the 1973 Ohio trotting filly Parlay R.C.

In the sixth, Castleton Farm entered the former season champion trotting filly Noble Florrie. Sid Spencer has the great Yum Yum Girl in, and Dick Midden has the speedy Smart Noble.

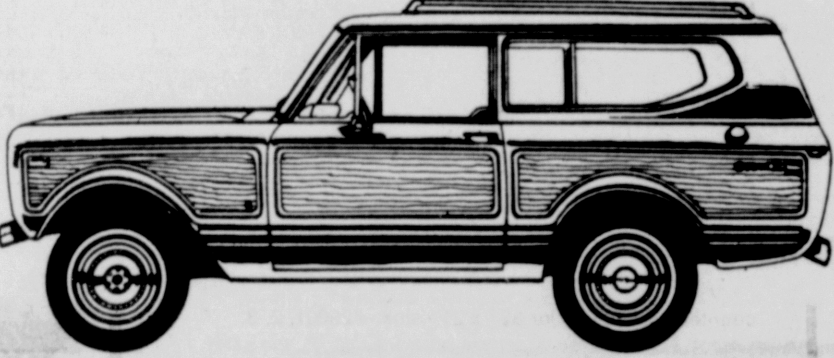

Racing fans will get two new looks at Scioto Downs when the season starts on Friday night.

New three-way wagering machines have been installed for the convenience of the fans, who can purchase win, place, or show tickets at any denomination window. The new three-way pari-mutuel machines will speed up wagering, and eliminate long lines.

Fans can view the races in color on the closed circuit television system newly installed this year. Closed circuit color TV monitors have been placed throughout the grandstand, club house and penthouse.

American League batting champion Rod Carew (.350) batted only .254 last season against the Chicago White Sox. He hit .444 in 12 games against Detroit.

Chicago White Sox Blank Minnesota For 1-0 Victory

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer
Nobody's perfect. Not even Stan Bahnsen.

The Cleveland Indians discovered that last year—and the Minnesota Twins found it out Wednesday night.

For the second time in two years, the Chicago White Sox pitcher came shockingly close to no-hit fame but literally let it slip through his fingers while beating the Twins 1-0.

The right-hander was one out away against the Indians last season when Walt Williams singled just behind the reach of Bill Melton's glove at third base.

And Wednesday night, he had a perfect game going until Bobby Darwin singled off "a high, inside curve ball" with two out in the eighth. In the ninth, Bahnsen gave up another single, the Twins' only other base-runner Wednesday night.

"I don't know if I'm good enough to pitch a no-hitter," sighed Bahnsen, who pitched two of them in the minor leagues.

In the other American League games Wednesday night, the Detroit Tigers nipped the New York Yankees 6-5; the Boston Red Sox stopped the Cleveland Indians 7-4; the Baltimore Orioles trimmed the Milwaukee Brewers 6-5 and the Texas Rangers downed the California Angels 6-1.

Tigers 6, Yankees 5
New York relief ace Sparky Lyle

walked Al Kaline with the bases loaded in the eighth inning, giving Detroit its victory over New York.

"The last two pitches to Kaline should have been strikes," said Virdon. "The fourth ball, which Odom said was low and inside, wasn't low and it was right down the middle."

Lyle insisted that the fourth ball was "right down the pipe. If he can't call 'em any better than that, he oughta hang 'em up."

Red Sox 7, Indians 4
Home runs by Rico Petrocelli, Bernie Carbo and Carlton Fisk powered Boston over Cleveland.

The Indians took a 2-0 lead off Boston's Juan Marichal on Oscar Gamble's bases-loaded single before the Red Sox struck back.

Orioles 6, Brewers 5
Earl Williams and Tommy Davis drove in two runs apiece and Baltimore, striking for three runs in the third inning, held on to beat Milwaukee and snap the Brewers' five-game winning streak.

Rangers 6, Angels 1
David Clyde outdueled Nolan Ryan with a nine-hitter and Alex Johnson knocked in four runs, leading Texas over California.

Clyde worked out of a bases-loaded jam in the seventh inning to preserve his third victory of the baseball season against no losses. Ryan, plagued by wildness, lost his fourth game in eight decisions.

Bengals File Quick Appeal On Bergey

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Bengals lost little time in appealing a lower court order denying them an injunction to stop the World Football League from recruiting players to future contracts.

Attorney John Lloyd appealed the Tuesday decision by the U.S. District Court to the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals Wednesday and asked for a temporary injunction.

U.S. District Court Judge David S. Porter denied a request for a restraining order against the WFL, the Virginia Ambassadors and linebacker Bill Bergey who signed a $525,000 contract to play there after 1976.

The Bengals had sought to nullify Bergey's contract. They claimed such contracts, which become full force after their NFL contract options run out, cause irreparable harm to the National Football League team.

The judge declared the WFL was within its rights to compete in an open market for players under NFL contracts. He realized, he said, that players would probably earn more money as a result.

As a partial basis for the appeal, Lloyd cited two paragraphs in Porter's decision.

Montreal Expos Defeat Phillies In 5-4 Contest

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer
"You learn to live with it," said Ron Hunt. In his case, it's almost amazing he hasn't been killed by it.

It's the pitch that gets away and ends up in the ribs or the back, on the leg or the arm— somewhere on the batter's body.

"You never get used to it," Hunt said of getting hit by a baseball traveling as fast as 100 miles an hour. And Hunt should know. He owns one of the major league's most dubious records, being hit by 231 pitches in his bruising dozen years.

The gritty, gutsy 33-year-old second baseman was plunked on the right knee leading off the ninth inning Wednesday night for Montreal and hobbled down to first base. A worried Gene Mauch met him at the bag.

A few minutes later he scored the winning run, scoring the tie-breaker on a Ken Singleton single that carried the Expos to a 5-4 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

In other National League games, St. Louis bombed the New York Mets 10-1, Cincinnati trimmed San Francisco 4-3, Pittsburgh edged the Chicago Cubs 3-2 in 14 innings, Atlanta blanked San Diego 3-0 and Los Angeles swept a doubleheader from Houston 11-7 and 10-2.

Cards 10, Mets 1
Ted Simmons blasted his way out of a slump by slugging his first two homers of the season, both off previously unbeaten Jerry Koosman, and Tom Heintzelman and Reggie Smith added one apiece in the 16-hit barrage that carried the Cards past New York.

Reds 4, Giants 3
Roger Nelson came within six outs of pitching a no-hitter for the Reds—and came within one San Francisco run of seeing his magnificent effort run down the drain.

The Reds' right-hander got last-out help from reliever Pedro Borbon for a combined two-hit victory.

Pirates 3, Cubs 2
Richie Zisk steamed home on Bill Bonham's 14th-inning wild pitch that gave the Pirates their triumph over the Cubs.

Braves 3, Padres 0
Buzz Capra, Gary Gentry and Danny Frisella combined on a three-hit shutout for the Braves after starter Ron Reed left the game with a broken hand in the first inning.

Dodgers 11, Astros 2.
Bill Russell drove in six runs and Joe Ferguson knocked in five in Los Angeles' two-night sweep over the Astros, extending the Dodgers' winning streak to nine games—their longest since a 13-game run in 1965—and widening their West Division lead to 7½ games.

LE Golfers Stop Aces

Steve Marshall fired a 40 to lead the Logan Elm golfers to a 171-214 win over Amanda Clearcreek Wednesday night.

The Braves, now 14-2 on the year and 6-1 in the Mid-State League, will play Canal Winchester at Groveport Country Club Monday.

Flip Sal Improves After Ankle Injury

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The veterinarian treating Flip Sal, the thoroughbred that suffered multiple fractures of its ankle during the running of the 100th Kentucky Derby, said Wednesday the horse will spend the rest of his life at stud.

Dr. Gary Lavin said Flip Sal had improved to the point "where the odds are in his favor," and would not be destroyed.

Ashlawn Victorious In Lebanon Feature

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Ashlawn, a 15-1 shot, broke out of the pack in the stretch and won the featured pace mile by a neck Wednesday night at Lebanon Raceway in 2:06 1-5.

Chicago White Sox Blank Minnesota For 1-0 Victory

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer
Nobody's perfect. Not even Stan Bahnsen.

The Cleveland Indians discovered that last year—and the Minnesota Twins found it out Wednesday night.

For the second time in two years, the Chicago White Sox pitcher came shockingly close to no-hit fame but literally let it slip through his fingers while beating the Twins 1-0.

The right-hander was one out away against the Indians last season when Walt Williams singled just behind the reach of Bill Melton's glove at third base.

And Wednesday night, he had a perfect game going until Bobby Darwin singled off "a high, inside curve ball" with two out in the eighth. In the ninth, Bahnsen gave up another single, the Twins' only other base-runner Wednesday night.

"I don't know if I'm good enough to pitch a no-hitter," sighed Bahnsen, who pitched two of them in the minor leagues.

In the other American League games Wednesday night, the Detroit Tigers nipped the New York Yankees 6-5; the Boston Red Sox stopped the Cleveland Indians 7-4; the Baltimore Orioles trimmed the Milwaukee Brewers 6-5 and the Texas Rangers downed the California Angels 6-1.

Tigers 6, Yankees 5
New York relief ace Sparky Lyle

walked Al Kaline with the bases loaded in the eighth inning, giving Detroit its victory over New York.

"The last two pitches to Kaline should have been strikes," said Virdon. "The fourth ball, which Odom said was low and inside, wasn't low and it was right down the middle."

Lyle insisted that the fourth ball was "right down the pipe. If he can't call 'em any better than that, he oughta hang 'em up."

Red Sox 7, Indians 4
Home runs by Rico Petrocelli, Bernie Carbo and Carlton Fisk powered Boston over Cleveland.

The Indians took a 2-0 lead off Boston's Juan Marichal on Oscar Gamble's bases-loaded single before the Red Sox struck back.

Orioles 6, Brewers 5
Earl Williams and Tommy Davis drove in two runs apiece and Baltimore, striking for three runs in the third inning, held on to beat Milwaukee and snap the Brewers' five-game winning streak.

Rangers 6, Angels 1
David Clyde outdueled Nolan Ryan with a nine-hitter and Alex Johnson knocked in four runs, leading Texas over California.

Clyde worked out of a bases-loaded jam in the seventh inning to preserve his third victory of the baseball season against no losses. Ryan, plagued by wildness, lost his fourth game in eight decisions.

Bengals File Quick Appeal On Bergey

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Bengals lost little time in appealing a lower court order denying them an injunction to stop the World Football League from recruiting players to future contracts.

Attorney John Lloyd appealed the Tuesday decision by the U.S. District Court to the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals Wednesday and asked for a temporary injunction.

U.S. District Court Judge David S. Porter denied a request for a restraining order against the WFL, the Virginia Ambassadors and linebacker Bill Bergey who signed a $525,000 contract to play there after 1976.

The Bengals had sought to nullify Bergey's contract. They claimed such contracts, which become full force after their NFL contract options run out, cause irreparable harm to the National Football League team.

The judge declared the WFL was within its rights to compete in an open market for players under NFL contracts. He realized, he said, that players would probably earn more money as a result.

As a partial basis for the appeal, Lloyd cited two paragraphs in Porter's decision.

Montreal Expos Defeat Phillies In 5-4 Contest

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

"You learn to live with it," said Ron Hunt. In his case, it's almost amazing he hasn't been killed by it.

It's the pitch that gets away and ends up in the ribs or the back, on the leg or the arm—somewhere on the batter's body.

"You never get used to it," Hunt said of getting hit by a baseball traveling as fast as 100 miles an hour. And Hunt should know. He owns one of the major league's most dubious records, being hit by 231 pitches in his bruising dozen years.

The gritty, gutsy 33-year-old second baseman was plunked on the right knee leading off the ninth inning Wednesday night for Montreal and hobbled down to first base. A worried Gene Mauch met him at the bag.

A few minutes later he scored the winning run, scoring the tie-breaker on a Ken Singleton single that carried the Expos to a 5-4 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

In other National League games, St. Louis bombed the New York Mets 10-1, Cincinnati trimmed San Francisco 4-3, Pittsburgh edged the Chicago Cubs 3-2 in 14 innings, Atlanta blanked San Diego 3-0 and Los Angeles swept a doubleheader from Houston 11-7 and 10-2.

Cards 10, Mets 1
Ted Simmons blasted his way out of a slump by slugging his first two homers of the season, both off previously unbeaten Jerry Koosman, and Tom Heintzelman and Reggie Smith added one apiece in the 16-hit barrage that carried the Cards past New York.

Reds 4, Giants 3
Roger Nelson came within six outs of pitching a no-hitter for the Reds—and came within one San Francisco run of seeing his magnificent effort run down the drain.

The Reds' right-hander got last-out help from reliever Pedro Borbon for a combined two-hit victory.

Pirates 3, Cubs 2
Richie Zisk steamed home on Bill Bonham's 14th-inning wild pitch that gave the Pirates their triumph over the Cubs.

Braves 3, Padres 0
Buzz Capra, Gary Gentry and Danny Frisella combined on a three-hit shutout for the Braves after starter Ron Reed left the game with a broken hand in the first inning.

Dodgers 11, Astros 2.
Bill Russell drove in six runs and Joe Ferguson knocked in five in Los Angeles' two-night sweep over the Astros, extending the Dodgers' winning streak to nine games—their longest since a 13-game run in 1965—and widening their West Division lead to 7½ games.

LE Golfers Stop Aces

Steve Marshall fired a 40 to lead the Logan Elm golfers to a 171-214 win over Amanda Clearcreek Wednesday night.

The Braves, now 14-2 on the year and 6-1 in the Mid-State League, will play Canal Winchester at Groveport Country Club Monday.

Flip Sal Improves After Ankle Injury

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The veterinarian treating Flip Sal, the thoroughbred that suffered multiple fractures of its ankle during the running of the 100th Kentucky Derby, said Wednesday the horse will spend the rest of his life at stud.

Dr. Gary Lavin said Flip Sal had improved to the point "where the odds are in his favor," and would not be destroyed.

New State Office Tower Nearly Done

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The new 41-story, $60 million State Office Tower now is 80 per cent finished and should be completely occupied by next fall, according to Daniel Shields of the Ohio Building Authority.

Shields said Wednesday transfer of some of the larger state departments will begin in the first week of June, beginning with the Department of Taxation and the Department of Economic and Community Development.

Meanwhile, the gradual occupation of the building, across Broad Street from Capitol Square by smaller departments resumes this weekend after a brief primary election pause.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown will vacate the offices he has occupied for 23 years in the north wing of the Statehouse, moving Saturday onto the tower's 14th floor. The move will involve about 100 employees.

Beginning Friday afternoon, tax collection, data processing and accounting units of the state treasurer's office will be moved from a location on South Third Street to the ninth and tenth floors of the tower.

But State Treasurer Gertrude Donahey does not plan to move any of her Statehouse staff into the tower until the General Assembly decides whether to allow elected state officials to retain liaison offices in the Capitol.

Transfer of State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson's Statehouse staff also is being delayed over this issue.

Brown, who also favors such an arrangement, said two of his aides will stay behind in the Statehouse to run a liaison office.

A fire in the woods behind Berger Hospital was started about 5 p.m. Wednesday by children playing with matches. Red Wilson reported the fire to the Circleville Fire Department who dispatched to the scene and spent 25 minutes getting it under control.

Westinghouse Gets Air Force Contract

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Westinghouse Electric Corp. has received a $21,850,000 48-month contract from the U.S. Air Force for design, development and testing of an all-weather, multi-function radar system.

The Electronically Agile Radar system was devised by the Air Force Avionics Laboratory at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base here.

The system is designed to adapt to different radar functions by changing beam shapes and positions at electronic speeds, a spokesman said.

Michigan Couple Strong Auto Racing Boosters

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — If the Gilmores of Kalamazoo ever get out of auto racing, some drastic changes will have to be made in their lives and surroundings.

"We are gung-ho about the sport," says 48-year-old Jim Gilmore. "It's a big part of our lives now, and we're probably too deep in it now to ever change."

Gilmore and his wife, Di, for Diana, are the owners of record of the car the venerable A. J. Foyt will drive in the May 26 Indianapolis 500-mile race.

They also are probably the closest friends and confidants the burly, often-truculent Texan has.

The Gilmores live in Kalamazoo in a house that otherwise would be no more pretentious than others in a staid, older section of the city. The comparison ends right there.

—Begin with the kitchen chimney. It is painted black and white—the checkered flag motif. Driving along the street, there is no way you can miss it.

—There's a complete Indianapolis race car hanging from the ceiling in the family room. It formerly was driven by Gordon Johncock, one of a long line of Gilmore drivers.

—The word "Pit Stop" are inlaid in the breakfast room floor, the entrance to which is paved with bricks from the old speedway. In the adjoining kitchen, an Indy-type race tire rests atop a cabinet, with the Gilmore Racing Team logo imbedded in its side.

—There are racing pictures all over the premises, particularly in the breakfast room and den. Art Pollard, a former Gilmore driver who was killed in a crash at Indianapolis last year, is prominently displayed. So is Johncock, the 1973 Indy winner.

But the dominant figure in all of the Gilmore house display is Foyt, the legendary Texan who now is approaching 40 and who has raced for the Gilmores for about three years.

"I think the world of the guy," Gilmore says of the battle-scarred, controversial veteran who is making his 17th start at Indy.

"He's a man of integrity, one of the finest gentlemen I've ever known," Foyt, though revered as a race driver, isn't generally spoken of that kindly on the racing circuits. The Gilmores, however, aren't to be classed in the mold of the usual monied racing sponsors.

Indeed, they aren't your usual race fans.

A youngish, almost boyish-looking executive despite his iron-gray hair, Gilmore owns television stations at Evansville, Ind., Joplin, Mo., Harrisonburg, Va., and Rockford, Ill. His network also includes a couple of radio stations.

He owns a Cadillac-Pontiac agency in Kalamazoo, where the racing motif also dominates, including a checkered flag walk up to the entrance; is part owner of Holiday Inns in Kalamazoo and other Michigan cities, is a board member of numerous banks and industrial firms, serves on three Presidential commissions, is involved in a string of civic and educational pursuits, and for a time served as the youngest mayor Kalamazoo ever had.

He is a close friend of Vice President Gerald Ford, and though shaken by Watergate, is still somewhat of a Nixon man.

And he's so busy he admits he doesn't know how he keeps up with himself. On the front seat of his car, at Indianapolis, Kalamazoo or any other place he happens to be, there usually is a massive key ring that jangles with at least a pound of keys.

"A lot of men wear several hats," Gilmore explains. "I carry a lot of keys, to the places where I have connections. I'm generally welcome."

Kalamazoo, but that's local and the people who'd buy from us know us. "I don't sell beer or cigarettes, and therefore what I spend in racing doesn't necessarily give us financial return in merchandising."

"I'm in racing because Di and I have a mutual interest in it. It provides a mutual respect and closeness that carries through to our daily lives. We feel strongly that this interest provides a stronger communication and respect for each other."

"We also live the sport. Auto racing is highly stimulating. The excitement of a race is immediate. It also broadens your views through meeting and working with many different people."

Foyt brought the Gilmores a 500-mile race victory at Pocono, Pa., last year. There was a massive celebration, including children Sidney, Beth, Jim III, Ruth and Elizabeth.

"If he wins this one," says Di, "the sky might fall in."

The Gilmores hope Foyt can win, for still another reason.

"Our 21st wedding anniversary comes on the Tuesday after the race," Gilmore pointed out.

"There's nothing we'd like better than a doubleheader."

Scenic River Wins Applause

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (AP)—Conservation groups received praise from Gov. John J. Gilligan Wednesday for helping make a 64-mile stretch of the Little Miami River here Ohio's first national scenic river.

"Many people worked long and hard to get the Little Miami included in the national scenic river system as a way of protecting its beauty," Gilligan said. "Today, they see their reward for that work."

John C. Whitaker, under secretary of the U.S. Department of the Interior, and William B. Nye, director of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, were with Gilligan for ceremonies at John Bryan State Park.

in a crash at Indianapolis last year, is prominently displayed. So is Johncock, the 1973 Indy winner.

But the dominant figure in all of the Gilmore house display is Foyt, the legendary Texan who now is approaching 40 and who has raced for the Gilmores for about three years.

"I think the world of the guy," Gilmore says of the battle-scarred, controversial veteran who is making his 17th start at Indy.

"He's a man of integrity, one of the finest gentlemen I've ever known," Foyt, though revered as a race driver, isn't generally spoken of that kindly on the racing circuits. The Gilmores, however, aren't to be classed in the mold of the usual monied racing sponsors.

Indeed, they aren't your usual race fans.

A youngish, almost boyish-looking executive despite his iron-gray hair, Gilmore owns television stations at Evansville, Ind., Joplin, Mo., Harrisonburg, Va., and Rockford, Ill. His network also includes a couple of radio stations.

He owns a Cadillac-Pontiac agency in Kalamazoo, where the racing motif also dominates, including a checkered flag walk up to the entrance; is part owner of Holiday Inns in Kalamazoo and other Michigan cities, is a board member of numerous banks and industrial firms, serves on three Presidential commissions, is involved in a string of civic and educational pursuits, and for a time served as the youngest mayor Kalamazoo ever had.

He is a close friend of Vice President Gerald Ford, and though shaken by Watergate, is still somewhat of a Nixon man.

And he's so busy he admits he doesn't know how he keeps up with himself.

On the front seat of his car, at Indianapolis, Kalamazoo or any other place he happens to be, there usually is a massive key ring that jangles with at least a pound of keys.

"A lot of men wear several hats," Gilmore explains. "I carry a lot of keys, to the places where I have connections. I'm generally welcome."

Kalamazoo, but that's local and the people who'd buy from us know us.

"I don't sell beer or cigarettes, and therefore what I spend in racing doesn't necessarily give us financial return in merchandising.

"I'm in racing because Di and I have a mutual interest in it. It provides a mutual respect and closeness that carries through to our daily lives. We feel strongly that this interest provides a stronger communication and respect for each other.

"We also live the sport. Auto racing is highly stimulating. The excitement of a race is immediate. It also broadens your views through meeting and working with many different people."

Foyt brought the Gilmores a 500-mile race victory at Pocono, Pa., last year. There was a massive celebration, including children Sidney, Beth, Jim III, Ruth and Elizabeth.

"If he wins this one," says Di, "the sky might fall in."

The Gilmores hope Foyt can win, for still another reason.

"Our 21st wedding anniversary comes on the Tuesday after the race," Gilmore pointed out.

"There's nothing we'd like better than a doubleheader."

Landlord-Tenant Measure Polished

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Action was virtually completed by the House Judiciary Committee Wednesday night on a major bill defining rights and responsibilities of Ohio's tenants and landlords.

Chairman Arthur Wilkowski, D-46 Toledo, said he planned to call Thursday morning for a committee vote on the measure which would send it to the Rules Committee for assignment to a floor vote.

The chief sponsor, Rep. Michael P. Stinziano, D-30 Columbus, said the widely rewritten measure—a subcommittee worked on four separate drafts of it—represents one of the state's greatest needs in the area of housing and community living.

"I suspect that the biggest benefactor of this legislation will be the guy who lives across the street from run down property and other neighborhood problems. A lot of them are owned by absentee landlords, and there's nothing in the law now to make them take care of their property," Stinziano said.

Among the more important features of the bill, Stinziano said, are those that spell out the rights under the law and with respect to responsibilities of both the landlord and the tenant with respect to their rental agreements.

Under the bill, for instance, a landlord is given statutory authority to evict a tenant for failing to keep the property in a safe and sanitary condition or for breaching other responsibilities defined in the legislation, including non-payment of rent.

A tenant would have the right to withhold rent from a landlord, after giving proper notice, if the landlord failed to make needed repairs or otherwise did not live up to his end of the agreement.

The tenant would have the right to deposit the rent with a clerk of a county or municipal court which in turn could require the landlord to remedy the tenant's complaint. The landlord could appear in court and be given the chance to show that the tenant was responsible for the problem and to request that the withheld rent be released.

A similar bill is pending in the Senate Judiciary Committee. Stinziano said unless that measure is sent over to the House for possible consolidation with his bill by next week, he will seek House action at that time.

Portsmouth Park Gains Backing

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — A proposed 147-acre industrial park east of Portsmouth will receive a $1.2 million development grant, U.S. Rep. William Harsha, R-Ohio, announced Wednesday.

Harsha, the Greater Portsmouth Growth Corp. and the Portsmouth area Chamber of Commerce worked for months to acquire the grant for the Franklin Furnace park.

The government will loan another $725,000 for development, Harsha said.

BALLET—Becky Sowers will present a ballet performance to the music "Exodus" at the CJHS Spring Arts Festival Friday at 7:30 at the junior high school.

Ohio's Lottery To Be Exclusive, Commission Says

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Ohio's lottery will be "exclusive," but that's all The Ohio Lottery Commission was saying Wednesday about the game it adopted.

"It's exclusive with Ohio, and nobody else has it," said Commission Chairman David F. Leahy. But he added that he would not discuss details because of competition from other states.

The commission has stated publicly that the game will be based on a 50-cent ticket and will have a minimum prize of $20.

Mathmatica Inc., the Princeton, N.J., firm that has developed the game, says the impact of New York's lottery was diluted by premature disclosure.

Life Continues In Israeli Village

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Life went on as usual in the small Israeli town of Maalot while three Palestinian terrorists held 85 teenagers hostage at a school, a former Cleveland reporter reports. Then gunfire split the stillness.

"There was screaming and panic at the schoolhouse," recalled Karen Baker, 31.

"The soldiers had to hold back a soldier whose brother was a captive in the schoolhouse. It was only about six minutes, but it seemed forever," she said.

Miss Baker, an aspiring journalist and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Baker of Shaker Heights, lives in Haifa, about 27 miles from Maalot. She was home when she heard of the children's plight.

She jumped in her car "to at least be with the people of the village and give them moral support," she said.

Miss Baker had written articles for the Cleveland Plain Dealer and her press pass won her a wave through the police roadblock at the entrance to the town.

Everything seemed calm, she thought.

"A woman walked by with a tray of eggs with a long loaf of bread stacked on top. About 500 yards from the school, people were buying sandwiches and drinks at a small grocery store and eating them there," she said.

She said she saw soldiers munching on a small, salty nutmeat popular in Israel. Only the grim faces showed the tension in the air.

Walking along the path toward the school, she was invited in to a home by a housewife.

Inside she met a deaf child about 18 months old. He had been hidden under a bed by his parents who were killed by the terrorists.

"I asked the woman how she could be so calm," Miss Baker said. "She replied that after four wars, you get used to it."

Then came the gunfire. Officials said later that 16 children and the terrorists were killed and 70 persons were wounded when Israeli troops stormed the school.

"Then they started bringing out the wounded. The sirens of ambulances were drowning out the sound of gunfire," she recalled.

"I went closer. I was still far away, but I saw the window of the schoolhouse closely enough to feel the unbelievable murder that was taking place inside."

Soldiers started asking everyone for blankets and mattresses for the wounded, she said.

"Some time at this point I started to cry. Then I got hold of myself and I ran to grab blankets from nearby houses," she said.

"There were no tears from those people at all," she said of the villagers.

Kentucky College Interest Declines

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A state Department of Education report shows that Kentucky's high school graduates still have little interest in an immediate college education.

For the first time in 10 years, the percentage of high school graduates enrolling in college fell below 40 per cent last fall. The decline marked the fifth consecutive year that college enrollment had been on the wane.

The Education Department's annual report shows that only 38.3 per cent of the 44,437 members of Kentucky's 1973 high school classes entered college last fall. Another 7.4 per cent chose some other type of postsecondary education, such as vocational school attendance.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR FRIDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): One of those mixed periods which can bring both the everyday and the unusual. Seek expert advice and opinions to cope with the latter.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Some questionable schemes may be suggested. Be alert — and reject promptly. Also, avoid unconventional behavior, extremes in word or action.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Good Mercury influences. Intellectual pursuits should be highly stimulated. Do not overestimate your set-up, however. All gains won't come at once.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): When you believe in anything, your enthusiasm is so intense it is contagious, so make sure your are correct in your beliefs. A day in which your influence will be strongly felt.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Curb emotions and a tendency toward eccentricity. Tighten reins on spending but don't scrimp unwisely and lose out in the long run.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Branch out to some extent. Realize your limitations, however, so that you won't overreach your mark. Some complexities possible.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Personal matters may need some special attention, perhaps a change of approach. A state of readiness advised — to cope with the unexpected.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): Unusual tact needed in domestic and social circles. Don't "make waves" or stir up needless dissension — only too easily done now if you are not alert.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Aspects stimulate your knack for handling matters which involve many persons. Especially favored: legal matters, government work and mediation between opposing forces.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Someone will throw down the gauntlet. The challenge will stimulate you and give you a bright idea — if you get busy at once.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Be objective and watch for opportune moments to advance your interests. Combine your best ideas with those of others — for the benefit of all.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Fine Neptune influences. Be on the lookout for good leads, projects with substantial background. Maritime interests, creative pursuits and travel especially favored.

YOU BORN TODAY have a deep, practical nature, with a true sense of value and needs. Unlike most Taureans, you are far more attracted to business than the arts, although you may pursue some creative activity as a hobby. Your executive ability and gift for organization fits you for a wide range of occupations in the commercial field. You would make an excellent corporation head, banker, manufacturer, landowner or investment broker. Science may also attract you and, properly educated, of course, medicine, geology or physics would be the best outlet for your talents along this line. Whatever you undertake, however, you must be careful to avoid extremes. Learn to temper your great forces with wisdom and moderation. Birthdate of: Edward Jenner, physician (discoverer of vaccination).

BOSTON (AP) — The upstart Philadelphia Flyers, on the brink of winning the coveted Stanley Cup in just their seventh season, seek to drive the final nail into Boston's coffin tonight in the fifth game of the championship showdown with the Bruins.

After winning three games in a row, after a 3-2 defeat in the opener, the Flyers can wrap up the National Hockey League's best-of-seven series at Boston Garden.

One of man's earliest and most reliable forms of transportation, the ferry boat, still draws eager customers from the coast of Alaska to the Bosphorus.

NEW YORK (AP) — Most TV stars beef about overwork if their shows last two seasons. Not Allen Funt. Despite 800 "Candid Camera" episodes, he still insists the work has kept him out of a home for the weird.

"If I hadn't done this show all these years, I'd be more insane than I am now," he says. "It's really given me a wonderful sense of balance because you find human behavior doesn't really change much."

Funt currently is working on an ABC-TV show, to air next Wednesday, in which he'll give a historical perspective of his long-running attempt to restore disorder in America. He began giving the citizenry mental hotspots in 1947 on radio with "Candid Microphone."

It led to "Candid Camera" on TV two years later, and the show still is in reruns across the country. Although Funt quit making "Candid Camera" in 1969, he'll be loose again next September with "The New incidents of real danger," Candid Camera," a syn-Funt said.

His world is one of talking mailboxes, workmen carrying what seems to be a sheet glass where there is but air, cars arriving in gas stations without motors. It is a world of, ah, alternatives to normal life.

Funt, 59, said it all started happening when he was in the people he films. The big Army, where many things happen. The year was 1944. His outfit had gotten a wire the cutting room floor.

recorder and he did gag interviews just for kicks. This led to his postwar radio effort and then "Candid Camera." Initially, he said, the latter show was prone to overly test the good will of unsuspecting victims—he prefers to call them "subjects."

"We found we were getting as many enemies as friends because of this top-blowing thing," he said. "We had a monopoly on the easy way to get people angry." And so, the show's emphasis changed.

He said around 1952 he began promoting the "Smile, You're on Candid Camera" slogan after each gag "and we stopped using individuals as the goat of anything."

"We started examining general aspects of human behavior," he said, adding that this is in reruns across the country. Even so, how many times has he gotten belted by an outraged subject?

"There were very, very few incidents of real danger," Candid Camera," a syn-Funt said.

He recalled the most serious incident as the time he posed as a pushy barber. He made one customer, a bald one, very mad.

In fact, the customer grabbed a razor and went air, cars arriving in gas stations without motors. It is a world of, ah, alternatives to normal life.

Funt claims his major problem in life isn't the happening when he was in the people he films. The big Army, where many things happen. The year was 1944. His outfit had gotten a wire the cutting room floor.
